TO-MORROW at 9-45 p.m.

presents Col. Roosevelt's Play that brought America into the War.

"WOMANHOOD

The Glory of the Nation"

THIS IS THE PICTURE THAT THE GERMANS IN AMERICA TRIED TO STOP.

"Womanhood" is the supreme revelation of the three noblest passions in a woman's life.

Rightly called "The Love Epic of the Screen," it depicts the love of a maid for a man, the love of a mother for her child, and the love of a woman for her country.

So vivid is the story—so gripping is the intensity of the action—that it conveys to the mind and heart emotions so vital and thoughts so powerful that its presentation will leave its indelible impress on your memory.

"Womanhood" is the film of the hour.

A Dream Come True

A MOTHER holds her new-born baby in her arms and she knows that she at last possesses the treasure she has dreamed of all her life. Her dearest wish comes true.

* * * * *

With the sweet, wee head in the crook of her elbow, the little face turned up to her own, she tucks the darling close against her heart and she breathes a prayer that she may never fail in this most sacred trust; that she may be strong enough in mind as well as body to approach as near as possible to her life-long ideal of what a perfect mother should be.

* * * * *

She realises, for instance, that if she possibly can, she must nurse her child herself, for she feels that with the natural nourishment there passes into that little body an indefinable something that nothing else can give.

* * * * *

But if for any reason her Baby has to be "bottle-fed," then she will not fret. She will be sensible over it: she will simply see to it that Baby has the next best thing.

* * * * *

And the next best thing to mother's milk is Glaxo, because Glaxo is pure fresh milk dried and which only needs the addition of boiling water to remake it into pure germ-free milk for your Baby.

BOMBAY MARKETS.

COTTON.

(From our Commercial Correspondent.)

June 20.

On Friday last, Fully Good Broach July-August closed at Rs. 549 and fluctuations have since been moderate. On Saturday the highest and lowest rates were Rs. 556 and Rs. 545½, and on Monday Rs. 556½ and Rs. 548½. On Tuesday the range was from Rs. 555 to Rs. 547. On Wednesday the market was partially closed for a holiday, and Broach ruled at Rs. 555½ to Rs. 549½. Yesterday the highest price was Rs. 551 and the lowest Rs. 541, the market closing at Rs. 544½. To-day the Marwadi bazaar opened at Rs. 543, and fluctuated between Rs. 542 and Rs. 544. Closing quotations are given below.

The general tone of the market has been steady. New York cables are again a good deal delayed, the latest to hand being the close of Monday last, giving the July position as 31.22. The weather has affected the market and the absence of rain in many parts of the country is causing some uneasiness. Business has not been on a large scale, neither bulls nor bears being aggressive and jobbers find transactions less easy owing to the narrow range of values. The near future is uncertain depending a good deal on the weather, and on New York advices when they come. It is to be hoped that the delay in quotation cables will soon be remedied, as it is a great inconvenience to the market and the cause of unfounded rumours.

Ready cotton has been in moderate demand by exporters and mills. Prices have kept fairly steady. Some holders are meeting the market, but the majority anticipate higher prices later on.

The monsoon has lately given good and general rain in the Berars and Central Provinces but elsewhere the current has been weak and little or no rain has fallen.

SHARES.

Dring the four working days there were large transactions in the Share market. The chief business was in miscellaneous shares. Cotton mills shares were weak on account of profit taking and bear sales. There was a further drop in the price of Simplex Mill shares which close weak at Rs. 480.

In the Miscellaneous shares Tata Banks improved fully Rs. 15 and close at Rs. 61, and there are buyers of British Burma Petroleum at Rs. 27½. The prospects of the market are somewhat uncertain owing to want of rain which is causing great anxiety all round.

The following are the closing rates of the Bombay Stock Exchange:—

SUGAR MARKET REPORT.

BOMBAY, June 20.

We have to report a steadier market during the week with fair demand and prices for ready sugars have been increased by 4 annas per ant all round. As regards forward sugars there was good enquiry both by importers and speculators and a large quantity has changed hands amongst dealers in White Java, June July shipment c 40'/3 to 43'/- per cwt., and July, September, c 39'/3 to 42'/- per cwt. Free Bombay Harbour. Calcutta and Karachi markets are reported from with good business doing. Java market is very firm and business is possible c 43'/6 F. B. Harbour for August September positions. There is no fresh business to report.

The following are the Bazar rates and stocks:—

T.M.O., Rs. 29-4-0, equal to 43s. F. B. Harbour, stocks 10,000 bags.

Brown, Rs. 25, equal to 37s. F. B. Harbour, stocks 10,000 bags.

Soft, Rs. 29, equal to 42s. F. B. Harbour, stocks 4,000 bags.

Mansitins Rs. 28 to 28-12 F. B. Harbour, stocks 70,000 bags.

Arrivals 15,500 bags Java Sugar from Singapore.

PIECE-GOODS.

The Cloth Market has been very firm and rupee rates have shewn a substantial improvement. This has been brought about partly by better demand and scarcity of stocks and partly by speculation on a small scale. Some dealers, knowing that stocks of some special qualities are light, have tried to corner the same by buying up small quantities at a time from different sources, but after each transaction a higher price has had to be paid and the advance has thus been established. Other cloths have also appreciated in values in sympathy with the above. Bonafide demand for consumption has been on a small scale, perhaps the cessation of rain may be causing some anxiety and buyers may be hesitating to book orders. But it is hoped that good inquiry will be forthcoming shortly and transactions amongst the merchants are being made in anticipation of better demand.

The Manchester Market has been firm and steady, and several offers have been sent back requiring heavy advances on dealers' limits. Here and there some small lines have been booked by big firms. The Lancashire labour dispute has not yet been settled but the result of the joint conference, in which the Minister of Labour has invited the cotton employers and operatives to participate, is awaited with interest.

An interesting case has been decided by the Chief Justice in which it was held that in a contract, where it was stipulated that "the sellers are to give the goods as and when the same may arrive," the sellers were only bound to deliver the goods if they arrived and that in the event of the non-arrival of the goods the purchaser was not entitled to claim damages for non-delivery under such contract, as the arrival of the goods was not guaranteed by the sellers. This seems to be the only construction that could be placed on the above words especially in view of the uncertainty that prevailed during the War Time as regards the shipment of goods and as to any mishap that might occur during the transit of goods. In several contracts such a clause has been inserted by the sellers and the buyers will now know how their position stands from this case of Jethabhai Kalianji v. Nagindas Vrijbhukhandas which has been reported in our columns in our issue of Thursday last.

GREYS.

In Grey Shirtings the feeling has been decidedly better. Fari 39 inches Red End Shirtings have advanced further by eight annas per piece owing to scarcity of stocks. Similar cloths of other firms, however, have not shared the advance and the difference in price is Re. 1-8 per piece, but it is expected that these will rise in value in sympathy with the leading cloth. Dewhurst's "BBB" shirtings have shown a smart advance of two rupees per piece owing to better demand from Bhownagur. Prices of Jaconets have gone up by leaps and bounds owing to speculative purchases made by a Benia merchant.

Local Mill Cloths have been in better request and several parcels have changed hands. Grey Longcloths have fetched Rs. 1-10 to Rs. 1-12 per lb. according to the quality of the cloth and sheetings have been sold at one anna per lb. less than these rates.

Japanese Shirtings have been firm with a rising tendency and all round an advance has been established. The stocks are gradually finding their way into consumption and fresh shipments have not arrived. Goods against March shipment have not come to hand, but at to-day's rates the dealers will get profit on the same.

WHITES

In White Goods there has been considerable activity and several lots have changed hands at increased rates. Wide Width Sacharilla heading White Mulls have shewn an improvement after a long time. 58 inches by 20 yards Red End Mulls have advanced by four annas and 39 inches by 20 yards Gold End Mulls by six annas per piece owing to brisk enquiry. 27 and 28 inches by 18 yards Nain sooks have been in better request, and values have advanced by further four annas per piece. 38 inches by 22 yards Tape Border Nainsooks have shared the advance Owing to the rise in this market some upcountry merchants have come down here to sell their stocks of Nainsooks and Mulls at advantageous rates and brokers have been moving about in the market with sample pieces of these goods and are collecting offers from the dealers.

STOCK OF PIECE-GOODS AND YARNS.

The list issued by the Bombay Chamber of Commerce indicates a stock of 44,389 bales and 5,940 cases of cotton piece-goods as on the 31st May last, which shows a decrease of 4,061 bales and 1,196 cases compared with the figures of the previous month. The stock of Cotton Twist and Yarns on the 31st May last stands at 9,016 packages which shows a decrease of 2638 packages as compared with the previous month. The imports during May last of cotton piece-goods have been 9,914 packages and of Cotton Twist and Yarns 667 packages.

BOMBAY POLICE COURTS.

A CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

At the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. Khairaz, Deputy Inspector Dyer charged Balraj Singh Jagdo Sing, driver of motor-lorry No. 232, belonging to Messrs. Mulji Haridas and Company, with rash and negligent driving.

The prosecution case was that on the 21st of May at 5-35 p.m. a tram car was going along Chruickshank Road towards Bori Bunder when the accused came from behind driving his lorry just near the Cama Hospital and collided with the tram car damaging the iron plate of the off side. The lorry drove away, but the conductor took down its number and reported to the police.

The accused pleaded that the allegations of prosecution were not true. He said he had returned to the Garrage at Colaba at 4-20 p.m., on account of there being a leakage of petrol in his lorry and it could not be that that his lorry had collided with the tram car as his lorry was in the Garrage at the time.

After hearing some further evidence on both sides, his Worship found that it was a case of mistaken identity and acquitted the accused.

Mr. Mohanlal M. Desai defended the accused.

SMART ARREST OF A CHARAS-SMOKER.

At the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. Aston, Excise Inspector Talyarkhan charged one Chera Nihala with possessing 1 lb. and 30 tolas of charas without license or permit. The accused was arrested by an excise peon who detained and searched him on suspicion and found the charas in his possession on Thursday at Grant Road.

The accused pleaded guilty and said that he was in the habit of smoking charas and was now going to a country where no charas could be had.

Mr. Talyarkhan requested the accused the option of a fine as he was employed on board the s.s. Vita which was soon sailing for Marseilles and the Captain of the ship could not spare his services if he were sent to jail.

The learned Magistrate convicted the accused and sentenced him to a day's simple imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 40 or, in default, five weeks' rigorous imprisonment.

A RASH MOTOR-LORRY DRIVER.

At the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. Aston, Deputy Inspector Klien charged one Francis D'Souza, driver of motor-lorry No. 65, with rash and negligent driving on the 18th instant.

It appeared from the evidence that the accused was driving his lorry by the J. J. Hospital and tried to proceed towards Parel, passing through a line of carts, and the tram-trailer No. 281, when the axle of the lorry collided with the front portion of the tram-trailer.

Mr. O. R. Wilkinson, who was sitting in the trailer at the time, deposed he considered it an error of judgment on the part of the driver and that the accused could have avoided the collision, had he not tried to cross the tram lines by overtaking the tram car and the bullock carts standing on the road. The accused pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 30.

IMPERIAL.

To-night will be shown the last episode of "Hands Up" starring Ruth Roland, thus bringing one of the most successful serials to a close. The last episode will reveal an entirely unexpected and unlooked for result, and in the point of sensationalism will exceed anything hitherto shown.

The Imperial are introducing this week a new Pathe Star, called Baby Gloria Joy who will undoubtedly prove as entertaining as the famous Baby Marie Sunshine.

Pathe's Gazette together with a very interesting picture on Aviation is also on the programme; and a very funny comic by Toto completes this thoroughly first class Bill. Watch the "Ads" of the Imperial as some big productions will be announced shortly.

NEW ALEXANDRA.

Pearl White, supported by an all-star cast, makes her appearance at the New Alexandra this week in a new serial, "Pearl of the Army," a wonderful story of love, mystery and adventure with present day war incidents. The opening episode deals with the attempt of a foreign spy to steal valuable plans of defences. A young captain, who is in love with the heroine Pearl Dare, loses these important documents under conditions which he is unable to explain. He is arrested on a charge of treason. His sweetheart discovers a clue and tracks the spy to a secret meeting, where she obtains valuable information, but has to run for her life on being discovered.

In the third episode there is a terrific railway smash. The heroine has a plucky fight with the mysterious spy on the edge of a steep cliff, from which they are both hurled down into the water below. There is no lack of thrilling incidents in this picture.

ALL-INDIA NEWS.

The President of the Madras Landholders' and Zemindars' Association has sent a cablegram to the Secretary of State for India protesting against the non-provision for any representation of Madras Zemindars and Jenmi landholders in the State Council and the provision of inadequate representation in the Indian Legislative Assembly and the Madras Legislative Council.

The "Hindu" understands that the Madras City Municipal Act has received the assent of H. E. the Viceroy and is expected to be published in the "Gazette" next week. It will come into force on such date as the Governor-General-in-Council may by notification direct.

CITY'S MORTALITY,

167 DEATHS ON THURSDAY.

The total number of deaths from all causes in Bombay on Thursday was 167 as against 92 on the corresponding day of last year. Cholera registered 3 attacks and 1 death, small pox 5 attacks and 3 deaths and plague 1 death on Thursday.

ALLEGED ASSULT ON "MALEE."

CHARGE AGAINST MAJOR PORTER.

At the Esplanade Police Court on Friday, Major F. J. W. Porter appeared before Mr. Aston, Chief Presidency Magistrate, to show reason as to why the case of assault brought against him by Babu Vithu a malee in the employ of Sir Cowasji Jehangir, should not be transferred from the Mazagaon Police Court to the Esplanade Police Court, since Mr. Khairaz, who had the case first, was now at the Esplanade Court.

Mr. Payne, Solicitor pleaded for the complainant while Mr. P. C. Dutt, Bar-at-Law, appeared for the accused.

POSSIBILITY OF AMICABLE SETTLEMENT.

At the outset the learned Magistrate asked the parties if there was any possibility of settling the case amicably, whereupon Mr. Dutt said his client never assaulted the complainant and it was for the prosecution to withdraw the case on an undertaking that watering the trees at 1-30 a.m. and ringing the bell during the night would be stopped. Mr. Payne thereupon said that their difficulty was that the malee could not be told to water the plants at day-break. He then said that as Sir Cowasji Jehangir was giving him instructions in this case he would have to consult him about a settlement. The case was therefore adjourned to 27th instant to enable the parties to come to an amicable compromise.

CASHIER'S ATTEMPT TO BURN ACCOUNT BOOKS.

DISAPPEARS WITH RS. 31,000.

Mr. Alimahomed Manji, a partner in the firm of Messrs. Manjibhai Khatao, Merchants, with their office on the first floor of a building in Duncan Road, had made a complaint to the police against his cashier, Mohanlal Jaishanker. It is alleged that at about 4 a.m., on Wednesday the complainant was informed by his servants that Mohanlal had been to the office at about 11 p.m., the previous night and told them that he was going to sleep there. An hour after the servants smelt kerosine oil and when they looked around they found the account-books steeped in the oil. They suspected Mohanlal and taxed him with it, but the latter walked away without making any reply. When the complainant examined his accounts the next day he found a deficit of Rs. 31,000 which he stated the man had misappropriated by making false entries in the books between the 4th and 14th June. He used to credit three-fourths of the amounts received in his master's book and pocket the rest. Since then Mohanlal has disappeared, and the Police are after him.

SENTENCED TO RECEIVE CUTS.

At the Mazagaon Police Court before Mr. Oliveira Sub-Inspector Sorabji Nowroji of the G. I. P. Railway Police charged one Kanji Mulji with the theft of Rs. 57-8-0, in currency notes from the pocket of Ramji Narayan, a grain merchant. The complainant deposed that on Wednesday at 6 p.m., when he was boarding a local train at the Masjid Bunder Station, he felt a jerk in his pocket and on looking behind he saw the accused taking away the money from his pocket. He arrested the accused red-handed and handed him over to the police. The accused pleaded guilty and admitted five previous convictions. He was convicted and sentenced to receive twenty cuts in jail, as the sentences of imprisonment seemed to have no effect upon him. He was also ordered to report the place of his residence to the police for a period of three years.

Mahatma Gandhi will preside. The public are invited to attend.

NEW JAIN TEMPLE AND CAR-PROCESSION IN SIMLA.

(From a Correspondent.)

SIMLA, June, 13.

From Sunday till Thursday last Simla the summer capital of India was all agog owing to the enormous influx of members of the Jain Community to participate in the celebrations directly and indirectly connected with the consecration of a new Jain Temple. Visitors to the number of about two thousand came to assist the resident Jains in the various ceremonies, some coming from the farthest corners of India. The residents of Simla—whether of Jain persuassion or not, whether Hindu or Mussalman— also entered heartily into spirit of the occasion and non-Jains assisted at all the functions except those most intimately connected with the consecration ceremonies. Shops belonging to men of all creeds were decorated and the people participating in the Jain Car-Processions on Sunday, and Thursday represented perhaps every religious sect in India. The procession is called the Rathyatra Car Procession—on both days it started at half past nine and finished at half past five, traversing the Mall for an hour during the afternoon. Participants in the procession were most enthusiastic, and it is a long time since so many people were out and about in Simla, every street being crowded and every vantage occupied by sightseers.

WANTED AN ARTS GALLERY.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—There is a great and most essential need of a good collection of the works of the great masters of high reputation, as well as of good modern painters, in an advanced city like Bombay, for the use of general student and not of little importance for the public education.

No doubt there are some very good private collections of such pictures in Bombay, and in Calcutta, but then, they only help to adorn the dwellings of their owners; and however good they are in their own way are inaccessible to the public and the art student.

It would be a great benefit to the art of the country, as well as to the public in general, if the executors of Sir Rattanji Tata, follow the splendid example of the late Sir Henry Tate, Sir Francis Chantrey, and J. M. W. Turner, and present Sir Rattanji's collection, which was at York House, Twickenham, or some of its pictures, for the use of general public, and lodge it under one single roof by erecting a permanent building for the gallery. As far as I could remember there were also some very good drawings in possession of Sir Rattanji.

Something in that way, would not only help to perpetuate the name of Sir Rattanji, but the general student, and the public will have an easy access to study the works of great masters, who have gone before us.

The Tate Gallery of London, sprang into existence under very similar circumstances, sixty pictures, and the fund for the present building at Millbank, boing presented by Sir Henry Tate to the Nation.—Yours, etc.,

RUSTOM SIODIA.

ALL-INDIA WEATHER.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SIMLA, June 20.

With the exception of a few isolated showers, rain has been confined to the south-west of the peninsula, north-east India and Burma. Rainfall has been nearly general in Lower Burma, Assam Bengal and Malabar and local in Upper Burma, Bihar Orissa and Mysore. A few falls also occurred in the east United Provinces, Kashmir, the North-West Frontier Province, Bombay, the Deccan and Madras Deccan. Chief amounts:—Tavoy, Akyab and Dibrugarh two inches; Tezpur one and half; Cherrapunji eight; Coxs Bazar and Darjiling two; Jessore three; Burdwan, Berhampore, Jalpaiguri, Sambalpur and Naya Dumka one and half; Purnea two; Gorakhpur a half; Drosh a quarter; Chitaldrug one; Calicut, Cochin and Trivandrum one and half.

Excessive temperatures along the North-West Frontier show signs of moderating, but the maximum recorded yesterday were generally one or two degrees above normal. The highest temperatures yesterday were one hundred and fifteen degrees at Jacobabad, one hundred and ten degrees at Peshawar, Khushab and Lahore.

Forecast:—No large change.

MISAPPROPRIATION OF GOLD BANGLES

At the Mazagaon Police Court before Mr. Oliveira, Sub-Inspector Shiraz charged one Govind Krishna, a goldsmith, with criminal breach of trust in respect of twelve tolas of gold and two gold bangles weighing two tolas.

From the evidence it appeared that two customers named Jagannath Balawant and Shanker Balawant entrusted the accused with the property. But the accused subsequently misappropriated the property and when repeatedly demanded by the complainants, could not return the same.

The accused pleaded not guilty. He was however convicted on evidence and sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment.

GRIEVANCES OF RAILWAY PASSENGERS AT VANKANER.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

VANKANER, June 19.

A crowded meeting of the citizens of Vankaner was held on the 18th inst. to discuss about the hardships of railway passengers and traffic have to suffer. Mr. T. J. Raja, presidel. The proceedings commenced with a lecture by Mr. Keshavlal K. Oza, who has been deputed by The Indian Passenger and Traffic Relief Association to travel in Kathiawad and to explain to the public the rules and regulations of the Association and to know at firsthand their grievances. Among the grievances are:—Overcrowding, want of urinals and latrines and separate female compartments, the want of a godown at the Vankaner junction, the want of a city station and the narrowness of the railway bridge. The president in summing up said that they should join in a body and take the necessary steps for the redress of their grievances.

PARTITION OF TURKEY.

THE PROTEST OF ISLAM.

A meeting was held in mail week, in the Essex Hall, "to protest against the indifference of the Peace Conference towards the vital questions affecting Islam."

A letter was read from Sir Abbas Ali Beg in which he said that it appeared that President Wilson and Mr. Lloyd George were being overborne by the heavy weight of selfish interests involved in secret treaties, and were being pressed to give their assent to the distribution of the dissevered limbs of the Turkish Empire among the Christian nations. This was a cruel injustice to Islam, in flagrant violation of the two principles previously laid down by President Wilson.

Mr. M. H. Ispahani, who presided, said that the Indian Moslems were at the present time absolutely united in protesting against the perpetration of a manifest injustice to Islam. The dismemberment of the Turkish Empire would not conduce to the peace of India: on the contrary, it would give rise to the greatest bitterness and be fraught with contingencies which he as a British Citizen did not care to contemplate. England had always been regarded as a sympathizer with Islamic sentiments, and he still hoped that she would not disappoint the Musulmans in the trust that they had reposed in her. If she did, he was convinced that the results for the British Empire would be grave.

A resolution, proposed by Mr. Yusuf Ali, was carried, as follows:—"This meeting implores the Peace Conference in their settlement of the Turkish question not to disregard the views and sentiments of the vast population of the Moslem world, more than 80 millions of whom acknowledge allegiance to the British Crown; but would strongly urge a settlement on an equitable basis, of which an outline was foreshadowed by the Prime Minister of England and the President of the United States in their public speeches and pledges." THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.

A POLICY OF DRIFT.

It is an open secret that during th short time that he has been in Bombay Sir George Lloyd has vigilantly interested himself in the doings of the various Government Departments and has displayed commendable concern to achieve rapid results in many directions in which popular opinion has hitherto fruitlessly expected the Government to move with acceleration. This is very encouraging so far as the future is concerned and we wish Sir George Lloyd success in the not easy task of making the present system of administration yield beneficial results it is inherently incapable of doing. Meanwhile, the present state of things is not less unsatisfactory than it has been. To take the case of Education, in spite of the liberal intentions and the genuine efforts of the present Member for Education, we are, in actual practice, pursuing a policy of drift and it is time the elected members of the Council, who feel that they are particularly interested in the educational future of this Presidency, demanded from the present administration a clear account of what has been done during the last five years, as regards educational progress, and what the Government of Bombay hope to achieve in the immediate future.

The Government of Lord Willingdon were in this direction prolific in sympathy but lukewarm in action. They showed energy in promising—schemes, but little haste in bringing them in execution. We are not, therefore, surprised to read in the latest administration report of the Bombay Government that in 1917-18, the total number of primary schools for boys increased from 12,600 to 12,903 only. It is difficult to forget that the efforts of non-official members, during the years 1915 to 1917, were directed in vain to induce the Government to open up primary schools on a very large scale year after year. A subject of greater importance than the increase in the schools was the pay of the primary school teachers. Another subject which claimed equal attention was the training of these teachers. The matter of pay and prospects of the primary teacher is still in the same unsatisfactory stage as it was three years ago, because of the incapacity of the Educational authorities to believe that half-measures, such as the bestowal of allowances and a slight increase in the pay, will never satisfy the primary teacher. He lives now on a miserable pittance, described as his salary, which is less than the earnings of an ordinary barber in any of our larger towns. If he is to be rehabilitated in status and expected to devote himself to teaching and teaching alone, he will have to be given treble the salary he gets. The Government of Bombay, however, appear to be more concerned about the training of the primary teacher. There are now 22 training schools under public management in this Presidency with an attendance, according to the latest report, of 1,369. We have no great hopes of this small number meeting the demand for trained teachers all over the Presidency, and Government will have to consider the possibility of opening a first year's training class for primary teachers in each district town.

The means which the Government of Bombay have taken to supervise these training classes reveal an amazing degree of ineptitude. We understand that the educational inspector in each of the three divisions in the Presidency proper and in Sind is, in each case, the inspecting authority for the full three years' course training colleges for vernacular teachers in the division, but for the new first year classes for training primary teachers, Governments have selected, as the inspecting officer for all the divisions, an Indian who was serving in a clerical capacity, and created for him a grade of Rs. 350-600. This officer, whose vernacular is, we understand, Gujarati, is expected to tour in Sind, and in Gujarat, the Deccan, and the Kanarese-speaking parts of the Presidency and to direct and control the training classes for primary teachers. Government have, presumably, required the officer to pass at least the Higher Standard test in Sindhi, Marathi, and Kanarese. We do not know whether he possesses any experience in teaching, but it is difficult to understand how an officer, although he may as an Indian be more intimate with the difficulties attendant on the training of primary teachers, can, with efficiency, and without an unseemly waste of public money in travelling allowances, supervise such training all over the Presidency. It is no argument to say that such a method of controlling the training of primary teachers is but temporary. We cannot reconcile ourselves to the idea that the local deputy inspector of schools will be unable to gauge accurately the quality of the training in the classes for primary teachers that may exist in his own district. We call upon some enterprising non-official councillor to press this matter home, and elicit from Government a satisfactory reply as regards their policy in a matter which they, we have no doubt, regard as extremely vital.

THE CRYING WRONG.

We have already pointed out how the sentences passed in the Punjab trials have sent a thrill of horror through thousands of Indian hearts. The heart of the country, however, bleeds without touching any responsive chord so far as the authorities are concerned. The blessing of mercy in some degree, however, appears to be the portion of Sir Edward Maclagan, as will be seen from the following statement showing the reductions in sentences recently passed by his Honour:

NIZAMABAD CASE.

In the case of the following the original sentence of transportation for life has been reduced to ten years' rigorous imprisonment:

Muhammad Hassain, Sherif Din, Abdur Rehman, Imam Din, Abdulla, Nur Ahmad, Muhammad Husan, Ismail, Alla Dittu, Pir Bakhsh, Alla Ditta, Mahommad, Abdul Karim, Chogatta, Nizam-ud-din and Ilam Din.

Atauliah, Abduliah Sardara and Maula Dad.—Original sentence of ten years' rigorous imprisonments, reduced to five years' rigorous imprisonments.

Hasura and Lehna.—Original sentence of five years' rigorous imprisonment reduced to three years' rigorous imprisonment.

Ilahi Bakhsh and Umer Bakhsh.—Original sentence of seven years' rigorous imprisonment, reduced to four years rigorous imprisonment.

N. B.—The sentences of forfeiture have been remitted in all the above-mentioned cases.

JALALPUR JATTAN CASE.

Ahsan Ali and Bahadur Ali.—Original sentence of three years' rigorous imprisonment reduced to one year's rigorous imprisonment

Abdul Aziz and Kdaram Ilahi.—Original sentence of ten years' rigorous imprisonment reduced to five years' rigorous imprisonment.

Abdur Rashid and Ahmad Din.—Original sentence of fourteen years' rigorous imprisonment, reduced to seven years' rigorous imprisonment.

KHEM KARN CASE.

Maula, son of Lali, Arjun Singh and Diwan Singh.—Original sentence of transportation for life, reduced to ten years' rigorous imprisonment.

Juma, son of Ida and Jaggu.—Original sentence of ten years' rigorous imprisonment, reduced to five years' rigorous imprisonment.

Chanda, Gondau and Mamu.—Original sentence of seven years' rigorous imprisonment, reduced to four years' rigorous imprisonment.

But it must be remembered that the legality of these trials has been disputed by eminent lawyers like Sir P. S. Sivaswami Iyer and others. To test it by preferring an appeal to the Privy Council may not be possible in all instances but there are cases, like that of Mr. Kalinath Roy, which, in spite of the protest they have evoked throughout the country, have not yet been redressed by the Lieutenant-Governor and must be carried to the final court of appeal. Meanwhile it is the duty of the country insistently to agitate for the appointment of an impartial committee of enquiry to examine and apportion the responsibility for the disturbances and their woeful results. For, it must not be forgotten that, while the mitigation of sentences, in some cases, may reflect creditably on the new Lieutenant-Governor, the fundamental grievance remains, namely, that by an executive fiat a process of "trial", the legality of which has been authoritatively questioned, was instituted, reducing many to misery and suffering. If public confidence in British justice, which has been sorely shaken, is to be revived, this tragic chapter in the history of the country cannot be allowed to close even with gratitude for the little sympathy of the Lieutenant-Governor, which, while it may not be minimised, can never be an adequate substitute for justice. The wrongs of the Punjab—all that they have meant in humiliation, suffering and desolation—urgently call for redress. Nothing at this stage should be allowed to obscure the issue which must be clearly faced without any attempt at camouflage.

INDIA AND IMPERIAL PREFERENCE.

In its Trade Supplement "The Times" of London has essayed to make out that India stands to gain—the journal does not say, much,—by the recently announced imperial Preference proposals of Mr. Chamberlain. Tea, coffee, tobacco and sugar are the only Indian articles that are immediately affected by these proposals. But does India really and substantially stand to gain by the Chamberlain porposals? We doubt very much. Take, for example, tea. India and Ceylon taken together, enjoy a practical monopoly of the market of the United Kingdom, as a reference to the latter's imports in any single year would show. The imports of Chinese tea cover only the higher blends and the total imports cannot be said to form any formidable rival to the Indian exports. A preference, therefore, in respect of what practically constitutes a monopoly, can have no meaning and no value. In the same way, but on different grounds, it will be found that India stands very little to gain by "preference" shown to her coffee, tobacco and sugar. The quantities India has been exporting to the United Kingdom of all these three articles have been so far so disproportionately small, compared with the world's output of these articles, that preference can bring only a small return, if any, to the pockets of Indian exporters. As "The Times" itself is constrained to admit, only by increasing the output in years to come can India hope to be substantially profited by Imperial preference. So, whatever India stands to gain, cannot meterialise for some years and in return for these shadowy "future prospects," is she to be forced into a scheme where she will have to reciprocate with the colonies whether she makes any profit out of the bargain or not? Preference has been acclaimed by the Dominions, because, circumstanced as they are, it will be beneficial to their interests. India's interests are different. Her position is different. While the Dominions are free to lay down their fiscal policy as they choose, India is not free to do so. Any pretence of equality with England and the Dominions without the substance is, therefore, but a mockery. India's immediate need is fiscal autonomy that will enable her to put an end to her economic domination by England. The satisfaction of that need will alone secure a fair field and security for the revival of her old ruined industries and the growth of her nascent industries and for her own people—now the poorest in the world—the fruits of the exploitation of her vast latent rich resources.

Notes of the Day.

Indian Woman's University.

Sir Ramakrihna Bhandarkar's survey of the position and requirements of Indian women at the present day, on the occasion of the convocation of the Indian Women's University, was both illuminating and interesting. The University, under the fostering care of two such enthusiastic workers in the cause of education and social reform as Dr. Bhandarkar and Prof. Karve, has falsified the misgivings entertained by some regarding its utility in the present paucity of Indian women students and may now be considered to have struck permanent roots in the soil. Dr. Bhandarkar frankly said that the Poona University has been modelled on the lines of the Women's University of Japan. Whatever may be said about the dangers of slavishly imitating things Japanese, which themselves are not seldom wholesale adaptation from the West, it must be conceded to the credit of Japan that her educational institutions have achieved wonders in the course of a few years. It was Japan's policy of free and universal education for both boys and girls, that has transformed the Japanese people into a nation of the very first rank. Japanese women have not been behind the men in their thirst for knowledge—knowledge not merely of a literary nature, but technical as well. There are thousands of women workers, fairly educated, to be found in the factories of Japan, while the cottage industries are also largely in their hands. There is no more urgent need for Indian women than to take interest in the movements around them in the same way as Japanese women, keeping, of course, true to all that is best in their own ancient ideals of womanhood. The Indian Women's University will have accomplished its mission if it sets its pupils on the road to the emancipation of India's womanhood.

No Indian Need Apply.

A correspondent draws our attention to the following notice which appeared in a recent issue of "The Times of India":—

"A vacancy occurs for a European chemist, preferably with cement experience. Apply stating terms and experience, etc., to General Manager, Katni Cement Factory, C. P."

Is it not scandalous, says our correspondent, that the directorate of Katni Cement Co., all of whom with the exception of one are Indians, should go to the length of authorising their manager to advertise for a European chemist when any number of Indian chemists are available, some even with cement experience? "What," asks our correspondent, "would one think of such prominent industrial leaders like Sir Fazulbhoy Currimbhoy and others, who are so ready to lament the want of expert chemists and who always find fault with Government for not encouraging indigenous talent, when they themselves are not alive to the need of encouraging Indian chemists?" From the advertisement it is plain that the primary qualification for the post is European nationality only. Is not an advertisement of the type an insult to Indian talent and Indian chemists in particular? Indians have been crying themselves hoarse because manufacturers in England do not admit Indians in their factories. Is it any wonder if they do so, when in India itself Indian directors go to the length of giving a carte blanche to the managers of their concerns to shut out, if they like, Indian talent from their factories? Surely, Indian chemists with experience of cement manufacture are not rarities in India. Has the manager of Katni Works ever tried Indian talent in his concern and can he say Indian chemists have proved incompetent?

Marathi Journalism.

During the current month there has been an accession of no less than three daily newspapers to Marathi journalism in Western India. The first in the field was the "Surya" ("The Sun"), published in Bombay. Then "Lokasangraha" ("People's Welfare") came into existence in Poona and lastly, on the 15th instant, Bombay saw the rebirth of "Sandesh," which had suspended publication last year on the confiscation of its press security by the local authorities. All the three journals, especially the last two, claim to be the organs of the Nationalist party in this Presidency. While welcoming our contemporaries and wishing them a useful and prosperous career, we cannot but regret that Western India has so far produced no first class Marathi daily newspaper. By this we do not mean to disparage the services that the two old Marathi dailies, the "Indu Prakash" of this city and the "Dynan Prakash" of Poona, have been rendering in the country's cause. Lack of enterprise in the Marathi-speaking community has been mainly responsible for this unsatisfactory condition of the Marathi press. It is not that the newspaper-reading public among them is not large enough. On the other hand, it will be found that proportionately both the number of newspapers and the number of readers are greater in this community than even among Gujerati speaking communities. It is only newspaper enterprise that is wanting.

The Leper Problem.

One our correspondents has drawn attention to the pitiable sight of vagrant lepers frequenting certain crowded streets in the city and endangering the health of the rest of the citizens by contamination. No proper solution of the problem of vagrant lepers in Bombay has been arrived at, partly because it is intimately involved with the problem of mendicancy, which, in Bombay, has so far defied solution, and partly because the local authorities, thea Municipality and the Government, have not set about tackling the problem in right earnest. One of the obstacles to a satisfactory solution has been the difference between the Government and the Corporation regarding their respective shares in the cost of maintenance of a lepers' home on a large scale in Bombay. The Municipality maintains, it is true, a lepers' asylum at Matunga, but somehow or other it has proved a failure. The other reason why the problem has not been solved is that the local authorities have not armed themselves with powers which would enable them compulsorily to remove the unfortunate victims of this fell disease from the streets and keep them in an asylum till they are cured. It is high time that such powers were conferred on them and the city protected from what is a danger to its health. At present the lepers are allowed to knock about even in the vicinity of markets, which are the last places they should be allowed to approach. The question has often cropped up in the Corporation meetings, but, so far, to no purpose. The danger still faces the public. Leprosy has been practically eradicated in England and other countries in the West by means of compulsory segregation. In India we are still on the fringe of the problem. If timely steps are not taken to safeguard the health of the ever-increasing populations of our large cities from this loathsome disease, we may have to rue the result if the evil goes out of hand. Above all, humanity demands that no efforts should be spared to alleviate the sufferings of the most unfortunate of our fellow-beings.

A VICEROY'S DUTY.

In my estimation, the highest function of a Viceroy is to listen with sympathetic ear, so as to understand India's hopes and aspirations, and translate to England's King and England's people the throbbing heart that beats beneath India's plaid breast. And in the same way he must strive to make clearer to India the kindly feelings of earnest good will, and the sincere desire to do what is right in the sight of God, that animates the less impulsive heart of England.

ALLIES' REPLY TO GERMANY.

GERMAN DELEGATES LEAVE PARIS.

WILL GERMANY SIGN?

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, June 17.
Recd. 12-15 p.m. June 20.

PARIS.—The German delegates, who left Paris last night, were handed two hundred revised copies of the Allies' reply. The delegates appeared to be entirely divided regarding Germany's attitude.

The opinion is expressed in the French circles that the Germans will sign if the Allies unanimously insist. The Americans are confident that the Germans will sign.

EXTENSION OF TIME LIMIT FOR GERMAN REPLY.

UP TO 7 P.M. ON JUNE 23.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, June 17.
Recd. 12-15 p.m. June 20.

PARIS, June 16th.—The Germans have been granted two additional days in which to reply "yes" or "no" to the amended terms, namely, by seven o'clock on the evening of June, 23rd.

The Austrian counter-proposals presented this afternoon were contained in a pamphlet of 80 pages.

CEREMONY OF PRESENTATION

GERMAN PROTEST AGAINST SHORTNESS OF PERIOD.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, June 17.
Recd. 12-15 p.m. June 20.

VERSAILLES, June, 16th.—The ceremony of presenting the Allies' reply to the Germans at the Hotel Reservoirs at 6-50 this evening was very simple. The Secretary of the Conference, M. Du Tasta, handing the Germans four documents requested a receipt dated and timed as the time-limit was reckoned from the moment of delivery. Simons signed the receipt about seven o'clock, then on behalf of Count Rantzau protested against the shortness of the period. As regards the extension of the time-limit it is pointed out that five days were originally fixed because the Germans themselves considered that sufficient. The German delegates and staffs were subsequently conveyed in 22, automobiles to the station leaving for Germany at eight o'clock in the evening.

GERMAN DELEGATES' DEPARTURE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, June 17.
Recd. 1-30 p.m. June 20.

PARIS, June 16th.—The German delegates including Brockdorff Rantzau left Noisy-le-Roi at 10.23 to-night. No incident attended their departure.

TURKISH DELEGATION,

RECEIVED BY ALLIED MINISTERS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, June 17.
Recd. 7-45 p.m., June 20.

PARIS.—The Allied Ministers to-day received the Turkish delegation which submitted the Turkish note.

CAPT. ALCOCK AND LIEUT. BROWN.

THE EDITOR AND THE MAN.

Your invitation to send you a few lines in appreciation of Mr. Horniman's services as a journalist and publicist reached me too late last evening to write you earlier than this day, which please excuse.

What Mr. Horniman was as a journalist and publicist can be best described by stating what he was not. He was not an editor who derivated his profession from edo, to eat and whose creed is best summed up in the words of James Russel Lowell.

I DO believe in Freedom's cause,
Ez fur away ez Payris is;
I love to see her stick her claws
In them infarnal phayrisees;
It's wal enough again aking
To dror resolves an' triggers
But libbaty's a kind o'thing
That don't agree with niggers.

* * * * *

I du believe with all my soul
In the great Press's freedom
To pint the people to the goal
An' in the traces lead 'em
An' in the traces lead 'em
Palsied the arm that forges yokes
At my fat contract a squinting,
And withered be the nose thet pokes
Inter the gov'ment printing.

I du believe thet I should give
Wut's hisn unto Caesar,
Fer it's by him I move an live
Frum him my bread an' cheese air;
I du believe thet all o' me
Doth bear his superscription—
Will, conscience, honour, honesty
An' things o' thet description.

I du believe in prayer an' praise
To him thet hez the grantin'
O' jobs,—in every thin' thet pays
But most of all in Cantins;
This doth my cup with mercies fill,
This lay all thought o' sin to rest—
I don't believe in princerple
But oh, I DU in interest.

I du believe wutever trash
'll keep the people in blindness
Thet we the Mexicuns can thrash
Right inter brotherly kindness
Thet bombshells, grape an' powder
'n' ball
Air good-will's strongest magnets
Thet peace, to make it stick at all,
Must be druv in with bagnets.

In short, I firmly du believe
In Humbug generally,
Fer it's a thing thet I perceive
To hev a solid vally;
This heth my faithful shepherd ben,
In pasturs sweet heth led me,
An' this 'll keep the people green
To feed ez they hev fed me.

Because Mr. Horniman was not all this, that he vivified the public life of Bombay and India, and how well he succeeded in this is best expressed by the certificate of merit Government gave him by deporting him. If one be permitted to take liberty with his name—HORN-I-MAN—the Government felt his horns and public, the MAN side of his name, and hence the love they bear him.

Mr. Horniman was a great Editor, but he was a greater man. His heart was a delicate instrument, and marked "knock and you will be answered," and who does not know that a stretched out hand of a poor man was a sort of barrier he could never pass? I know how often he was "cheated" and when I expostulated with him he always gave me a smile which said "Some day you will know better." That smile of his I can never forget, and I know how many hearts it has gladdened.

LAKHIMIDAS ROWJEE TAIRSEE.

A GREAT JOURNALIST.

The re-appearance of the "Chronicle" after a somewhat prolonged period of tribulation has been appropriately signalised by tributes to the man who in a remarkably short space of time, succeeded in making it far and away the most powerful organ of nationalist opinion in this country. In joining in the general chorus of appreciation, I shall avoid everything that may savour of fulsome adulation, and shall try to voice the opinion of those who knew him with all his weaknesses and all his outstanding virtues.

There can be no two opiniens about Mr. Horniman's great gifts. I have seldom known such a fine journalistic touch as he possessed. He had all the arts and all the imagination which make a great journalist, and he employed them with considerable effect. He wrote and spoke fearlessly and incisively, and his words went straight to the heart, and people felt a new spirit was abroad. Thus it was that the "Bombay Chronicle" and its brilliant editor became outstanding features of our public life, and enjoyed an immense influence. It is greatly to be regretted that the power thus obtained was not exercised with a little judicious restraint. A man of passionate sympathies and quick impulses, Mr. Horniman sometimes judged men and measures harshly and hastily, and attacked with a bitterness which might well have been avoided. He made many enemies in consequence and some hard things were said of him. But to those like myself who knew him his passionate hatred of injustice and oppression, and his vivid sympathies with the weak and the suffering, his faults appeared to be inseparable from his personality. He seemed to be temperamentally incapable of measuring his words or his actions when he felt a wrong was to be righted or a cause was to be won. But for all that, Mr. Horniman has rendered great services to the country, and it is not surprising that his summary deportation should be viewed with keen regret even by those who did not see eye to eye with him on all questions. The manner of his removal must add to the dissatisfaction with which the disappearance of a public worker of such eminence is naturally regarded. The least the Government owe to the people is a full statement of the grounds which have prompted the extreme measures which they have adopted, if they wish their action to be judged at the bar of public opinion.

MYSORE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

DEBATE ON BUDGET FOR 1919-20

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
MYSORE, June 20.

The discussion of the State Budget for 1919-20 formed part of the business at a meeting of the Mysore Legislative Council to-day. Suggestions were made by non-official members to curtail the expenditure of Public Works, to provide facilities for technical, industrial and professional education. One of the non-officials desired the publication of the report of Mr. K. L. Datta about the finances of the State and another suggested the appointment of a mixed committee of officials and non-officials to inquire into all the aspects of public finances of the State. A suggestion was also made for the establishment of a Board of Public Health and desired larger grants for rural areas.

AMENDMENT OF REGULATION OF 1907

NEW VICTORY LOAN.

SPLENDID SEND-OFF IN LONDON.

"BRITAIN'S GLORIOUS PART IN WAR."

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, June 16.
Recd. 1-30 p.m., June 20.

The city gave a splendid send-off to the new Victory Loan to-day when Mr. Bonar Law and Mr. Chamberlain addressed a large enthusiastic meeting in the Guildhall, the Lord Mayor presiding.

The Premier in a message from Paris urged that the victory must not be left to rust on battlefield. It must be entrenched in the new settlement of the world. "No country", continues the Premier, "has played a greater part in the war than Britain. Let us see that we do not fail through lack of steadfast purpose to complete the noblest structure in our country's history."

Mr. Chamberlain said that only a small part of the new loan was required for paying the war as he hoped to balance this year's expenditure. He dealt with the criticisms that the terms of new loans were too generous saying it was well worth while to give rather better terms in order to secure a really good result and to relieve us from the great incubus of a floating debt. The United Kingdom now stood in a position unrivalled in credit and financial stability amongst all the Allies. (Cheers).

Mr. Bonar Law emphasised that the need for money was now not quite so evident but equally as great.

DELHI SATYAGRAHA SABHA DISSOLVED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
DELHI, June 20.

Soon after the recent disturbances and sometimes before Swami Shruddhanand-ji's published letter to Mr. Gandhi, the member of the Satyagraha Sabha decided to dissolve this body as they were of opinion that in the present condition of the country the movement was most inopportune. The Sabha has accordingly been dissolved.

AFGHAN CAMPAIGN.

TRIBESMEN ALARMED

TACTICS OF TWO FACTIONS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS SPECIAL SERVICE.)

SIMLA, June 19.

The Associated Press special correspondent wires through Peshawar on 19th:—

The report is current in Peshawar that the tribesmen on our side of the frontier, who took up arms on behalf of the Amir, are greatly alarmed at the news that the communications are passing between Indian and Afghan Governments. They say the Amir has betrayed them, as their acts of hostility to British Raj were committed in the firm belief that they would have behind them the full support of the Afghan army. What they now fear is that the Afghans will fall away, and that they will have to bear the full brunt of the enormous forces which the Indian Government are now collecting on the frontier.

The result is that two factions have arisen amongst the tribesmen. One is for so acting now as to make us distrust the Amir and render an Armistice impossible. The existence of such a faction explains the recrudescence of sniping and firing at our aeroplanes and the existence of a body of hostile Mohmands on the Jalalabad ridges near Dakka. The other faction according to the report is all for making peace with the Indian Government before the Amir does so, and paying any fines in money and rifles that may be imposed, otherwise they say the Indian Government will annihilate them.

AN INTERESTING SITUATION.

The situation therefore, from a political point of view, is full of interest. Obviously if the tribesmen detach themselves or can be detached from the Amir, the latter loses one of his most important assets and a great blow will be struck at the conspirators who have driven him into war. The more one learns of the situation in Kabul the stronger grows the conviction that the same secret and dubious means that were employed by the Germans to involve the Turks have been used by the Bolshevik and other agents to involve the Afghans. Luckily, however, there is a body of responsible opinion in the country including the military leaders, which strongly resents Afghanistan being run by a knot of foreigners. The last named have hitherto had their way, because they have spent money very freely, but as their funds are now getting exhausted and if they now also lose the support of the frontier tribes their day will be very close at hand.

STRONG FEELING IN FAVOUR OF PEACE IN AFGHANISTAN.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, June 19.

The "Pioneer" learns that the Afghan messengers, who brought the Amir's reply to the Viceroy's despatch into our lines, spread a report broadcast on their way down that an armistice of three months' duration was being arranged. This seems to suggest there is a strong feeling in favour of peace in Afghanistan and the authorities are anxious to encourage it. The general expectation, moreover, exists in India an armistice, which may lead up to a satisfactory peace, will be concluded.

NO TRACE OF AFGHANS AT JALALABAD.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SIMLA, June 20.

The Associated Press special correspondent wires through Peshawar on 20th June:—A certain number of Mohmands, Shinwaris and other tribesmen have collected in front of British positions in advance of Dakka and have been indulging in sniping. There is no evidence of Afghan regulars amongst them. In fact a recent aeroplane reconnaissance reported it could discover no trace of Afghan troops at Jalalabad.

COUNCIL OF NAWANAGAR STATE.

AGENDA OF BUSINESS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

VANKANER, June 19.

The agenda of the Council of State in Nawanagar includes measures to be taken for the promotion and development of the following six important items:—(1) Protection of cattle in famine years, (2) famine relief measures, (3) improvement in agriculture, (4) advancement in commerce and industry, (5) sanitation development and (6) arrangements for the education of agriculturists. The revenue security, on behalf of the State have the following schemes.

As regards the first, the state proposes to stock hay to be utilised in famine years. As regards the collection an annual instalment of 1,000 lbs. of fodder should be levied from each farmer. The state intends with the help of farmers to store food grains to be used in times of scarcity. Ample use should be made of agricultural implements of modern types such as light iron ploughs, oil engines and pumps and boring machines. The system of sinking deep and pacca wells and the use of artificial measures should be extended.

Nine of Prashnora Nagar students out of ten who appeared in various University examinations passed. The following of them get the Prabhuram Prize given by Mr. Vishwanath P. Vaidya:—

1st.—Mr. Babubhai N. Vaidya of Grant Medical College. 2nd.—Mr. Nanabhai M. Mulani of Wilson College. 3rd.—Mr. Krishnadev H. Bhatt of St. Xavier's College.

MATRICULALE TEACHERS & DEGREES.

MOTION FOR FACILITIES DEFEATED.

SIR NARAYAN'S ANCIENT OBJECTIONS.

A meeting of the Senate was held last night in the Sir Cowasji Jehangir Hall the Vice-Chancellor, Sir Chimanlal Setalvad presiding.

The Revd. Dr. D. Mackichan was re-elected as the University representative on the Court of Visitors of the Indian Institute of Science.

Sir N. G. Chandavarkar had given notice to move—

That, as recommended by the Joint Examination Board and the Syndicate, the following Regulation be substituted with retrospective effect as regards the Examination of 1919 for Regulation 18 of the School Leaving Examination Regulations:—

"18. To pass the Examination, a candidate, who offers to be examined for the School-Leaving Examination certificate which is either accepted by the University of Bombay for the purposes of Matriculation or which shall qualify him for Government service, shall obtain at least 33 per cent. of the full marks in each paper in English and in the paper in Additional language 25 per cent. of the full marks in each of the other subjects, and 33 per cent. in the grand total.

"All other candidates for the Examination shall, to pass it, obtain at least 33 per cent. of the full marks in each subject in which they offer to be examined.

"Should a candidate, however, fail by not more than three marks is one paper only in English or by any number of marks in one of the other subjects, he shall be declared to have passed the Examination if, on a review of his marks a majority of not less than two-thirds of the Examiners present at the final meeting decide that he should pass, provided always that no candidate shall so pass unless he obtains at least 40 per cent. of the total marks in all subjects."

The mover said the object of the resolution was to bring the regulation in harmony with the objects of the School-Leaving Examination and also with the curriculum.

The Hon. Mr. R. P. Paranjpye seconded and the proposition was adopted.

SPECIAL EXEMPTION FOR BACHELORS OF AGRICULTURE.

The Senate then considered a proposal to permit Bachelors of Agriculture who were entitled to be examined in one subject only at the Intermediate Science Examination keep terms for the B.Sc., Examination before passing the Intermediate Science Examination in the subject of which they were to be examined.

Mr. R. P. Paranjpye moved—

That, as recommended by the Faculty of Science and the Syndicate, the following N.B. be added to Regulation 14 in Science:

"N.B.—Bachelors of Agriculture who are exempted from undergoing an examination in Chemistry and Elementary Biology at the Intermediate Examination in Science under the N.B. to Regulation 7 will be permitted to keep terms for the B.Sc. Examination before passing the Intermediate Examination in Science, provided however that the terms so kept will be regarded as terms for the B.Sc. Examination, only when the candidates have passed the Intermediate Examination in Science."

He said it was a non-contentious matter and it was only right that the amendment should be inserted in the rules. It was only a logical consequence of the motion they had passed last time.

Mr. J. R. Gharpure seconded and the motion was adopted.

FACILITIES FOR SECONDARY SCHOOL TEACHERS.

The Senate then considered a scheme to admit teachers in recognised schools and colleges to the first year and Intermediate Arts Examinations without attendance at College.

Rao Bahadur Bulchand Dayaram moved:

(a) That teachers in all recognized Secondary Schools and Colleges who have passed the Matriculation Examination of the Bombay University and have served in them, after passing that Examination, for a period of not less than a full school or college year may, without keeping terms at an Arts College, be permitted to obtain a certificate from the Principal of an Arts College showing "that they have satisfactorily carried out the work appointed by the University for the first two terms in Arts."

(b) That teachers of all recognized Secondary Schools and of all Colleges may after obtaining a certificate from the Principal of an Arts College, showing that they have satisfactoryily carried out the work appointed by the University for the first two terms in Arts, provided they have scored for a period of not less than full school or college years as teachers in such institutions, be admitted to the Intermediate Examination in Arts without keeping terms at an Arts College.

He said this was a new departure from the existing system. The time had come when they should introduce such a system in Bombay. There were numerous teachers and others, who would be very happy to avail themselves of the concession, and he did not think the cause of the University would suffer by such a concession. On the other hand school teachers would improve very much. There might be some practical difficulty in the way, but he submitted those difficulties might be overcome. There were places where there were schools and colleges and teachers might be able to get the necessary certificates after having done practical work. In the Punjab some such system had been followed. It would widen the educational outlook and it would enable several teachers to obtain a higher university education. The fate of those teachers was very dismal at present and the concession would heaten them and enable them to widen their mental capacity. It would enable them to acquire university education which otherwise they would be unable to acquire.

JEHANGIR. 20th Ju

He was duly seconded.

Dr. A. Viegas moved that the question be referred for consideration to the Faculty of Arts.

The motion was, however, defeated.

MR. PARANJPYE'S AMENDMENT.

Mr. Paranjpye in moving the following amendment—

(1) That the paragraph (a) be dropped. (2) In paragraph (b), line 1, after 'That' add the words "full time paid." (3) The words in the resolution be re-arranged as follows:—

"That (full time paid) teachers of all recognized secondary schools and of all Colleges may be admitted to the Intermediate Examination in Arts, without keeping terms at an Arts College, provided they have served for a period of not less than full two school or college years after obtaining a certificate from the Principal of an Arts College, showing that they have satisfactorily carried out the work appointed by the University for the first two terms in Arts."

(4) Add at the end of paragraph (b) the following words:—

"N.B.—Such candidates shall appear for the examination from the College from which they obtained their first year certificate after the Principal of that College has satisfied himself that the conditions have been fully carried out."

(5) Add a new paragraph—"That the Syndicate be requested to consider whether a similar concession can be made in the case of full time paid teachers who wish to appear for the B.A. Examination with an optional subject other than group (e) or (f)."

Mr. Paranjpye said he was in entire sympathy with the proposition moved by the Rao Bahadur, and his only object in moving the amendment was that there should be no abuse of the concessions. He had the keenest sympathies with the teachers and he also had no desire to see that the interests of the University should suffer in any way.

Prof. Kanitkar seconded.

Dr. A. Powell said there was not a principal of a college who would not protest at the insult offered to them. They were by their proposal prostituting the name of college. How could they expect a principal to certify, when the student was not in the college at all? He asked the Senate not to condone such a dishonourable practice.

SIR NARAYAN'S OPPOSITION.

Sir N. G. Chandavarkar said such attempts had been made before this in the time of Sir Alexander Grant and others If the principle was a good one now, why was it not good then? If there was any reason for adopting it, it was then when there were fewer graduates in the Presidency, and people wanted to improve their prospects. It was not a question of merely putting the principals of colleges into a false position, they were making concessions in favour of people, who, if the concessions were given would work as teachers and then also study at the University. He was not sure whether by that they would not be increasing the mortality amongst Indians which was already very high. He asked them to reject the proposal.

The Rev. Dr. Mackichan in opposing both the proposition and the amendment said it was a very simple matter which they had to decide. He was glad, however, that the amendment brought forward by Mr. Paranjpye knocked the bottom out of the whole scheme. Mr. Paranjpye was prepared to exempt the teachers during the second year, which was a year when the real college life began, and not in the first year which was only a school year. They must preserve the University and they must not be carried away by the expression that their University was a mere examining body. It was nothing of the kind. The Indian University were a teaching body. But what were they going to do by giving degrees to the teachers? He thought it was only the thin end of the wedge and he feared it would send their system under. Dr. Mackichan asked the Senate to reject both the proposition and the amendment by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. Mirza Mahomed Ali Khan opposed the proposition and the amendment. The arguments which had been brought forward were no arguments at all, he said.

DR. MANN SUPPORTS AMENDMENT.

Dr. Harold Mann said he hardly dared to speak after the previous speakers had spoken so much in opposition. He thought there was a good deal to be said for the proposal itself, but he supported the amendment. He wanted them to consider very carefully and favourably the position of their teachers. He had had a great deal to do with the school teachers himself and he knew a great many teachers who would go in for a degree, and thus improve their prospects. Even in England it was done by evening colleges, but in this country it was not, as there were no evening colleges, and he, therefore supported the scheme. The arguments of Sir Narayan that because in 1860 something was bad, it ought not to be adopted now, was not an argument at all, it meant that because some 40 years ago they had not done a thing they should not do it now. They must decide the question for themselves. While he respected all old things, they must decide the question on the merits and evidence before them. Even Dr Mackichan could not say that he did not respect a university degree. He thought that some facilities should be given to poor teachers to get a degree if possible, as there was a large value attached to it. Another point was that a great deal of eye-wash attached to the fact of attending colleges. Students might attend colleges for years without even once coming into contact with professors except in their classes.

The Hon. Mr. G. J. Covernton opposed the motion and the amendment as he said the scheme was only the thin end of the wedge.

Prof. Hamley opposed and he resented the remarks made by Dr. Mann against the colleges.

Mr. Bharda said if they decide that those teachers who took up teaching should not attend low colleges and become LL.B.'s he would be grateful to the Senate.

The Hon. Mr. R. P. Paranjpye in replying to the debate said, he had expected all the opposition, and he had also expected all the historical anecdotes and statistics from Sir Narayan as to what had happened in the University so many years ago. But they had to decide the question on its merits and they had nothing to do with what had been done by other people. He hoped the Senate would pass the amendment.

Both the amendment and the proposition were rejected by a large majority.

The Senate then adjourned.

MR. DURGADAS' APPEAL AGAINST CONVICTION

MR. NORTON TO APPEAR.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

KARACHI, June 20.

An appeal has been filed in the Judicial Commissioner's Court on behalf of Mr. Durgadas B. Advani against his conviction and sentence of two years' imprisonment and fine of Rs. 1,000 for sedition in connection with the printing of the "New Call" pamphlet. It is understood that Mr. Eardly Norton has been briefed to conduct the appeal for Mr. Durgadas.

"HINDVASI" SEDITION CASE.

WITNESSES CALLED FROM DELHI.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

KARACHI, June 20.

In the sedition charge against the Editor of the "Hindvasi," a vernacular daily of Hyderabad, Sind, the defence this week has called witnesses from Delhi to give evidence as to the circumstances of the riot on March 30th, in rebuttal of the evidence of Mr. Jeffreys, Police Superintendent, Delhi. These witnesses include Swamii Shradda nanda, Mr. Desai Manager of the Hanuman Mills and Joint Secretary of the Delhi Satyagraha Sabha, and Mr. Dingmal. These witnesses were examined at great length. Three more Delhi witnesses are summoned making twelve in all.

SOLDIER IMPERSONATES C.I.D. OFFICER.

GETS FOUR MONTHS FOR CHEATING.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, June 19.

Private T. E. Jones, of twelfth Special Service Battalion, was prosecuted to-day on two separate charges of cheating. Evidence went to show that Private R. C. Steel of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, Bombay, had come to Calcutta and put up in the house of Mrs. Blint at No. 22, Dedar Buksh Lane. The accused, who was known to him, called at the house of Mrs. Blint and represented himself to her to be an officer of the Special Branch of the C. I. D. and obtained possession of Private Steel's three boxes containing his civil and military clothing and also obtained from her Rs. 5 by informing her that Private Steel was under arrest in Fort William as a deserter, and wanted his belongings and five rupees; the accused under false pretences also induced Private Steel's father to give him Rs. 20. The Magistrate sentenced the accused to a collective term of four months' rigorous imprisonment on both accounts.

must remain under the sovereignty of the Ottoman Sultan, in conformity with the principle of nationality applied to all other races.

(3) The Secret Treaties, so far as they aim at the dismemberment of Moslem regions (in the guise of emancipatory measures or Mandates) should be deemed invalid, as they are opposed to the agreed principles of a peace settlement.

(4) The Moslem races should be left unfettered if they desire to organise an Islamic federation or federations under the hegemony of any State selected by them, to be included in due course in the League of Nations.

(5) No Mandate should be imposed on any Moslem region unless the populations concerned desire it by an expression of their free will, both as to an absolutely disinterested Mandatory Power and the nature and duration of the Mandate leading up to unfettered independence.

(6) Moslem races should be free to choose the sovereignty or other form of government acceptable to them.

(7) The criterion of a plebiscite should be applied in all Moslem regions to ascertain the will of the populations concerned in regard to points 4, 5, and 6.

(8) The contemplated Jewish Settlement in Palestine should be effected in such a way as not to upset the present predominance of the Moslem population, so that it may be saved from being brought under an alien yoke.

These considerations derive added force from the cogent and unanswerable argument of Mr. Montagu in his recent speech in Parliament that "Indian soldiers, including among them their best Mahomedan soldiers, claim that they have had a predominant par tin the defeat of Turkey in full confidence that the War was a war of liberation and equality of treatment, of national settlement, and of self-determination, and when they read rumours, and acts, which led to a fear that our Mussulman enemy will be partitioned up to satisfy conflifting claims, when they read that this part is to be allotted to this European nation and that to another—mere rumours, but alarming rumours—when they read that as a signal of victory there are those who advocate the reconstruction of an important Mahomedan mosque, is it to be wondered at that there are signs of unrest among the Mahomedan people of the world?"—"India."

FUTURE OF ISLAM.

WANTED-PLEBISCITE FOR MOSLEM REGIONS.

SIR ABBAS BAIG'S VIEWS.

We have received the following extract from a letter outlining the views of Sir Abbas Ali Baig on the questions which are now perturbing the Moslems of India:—

It is imperative that the Moslem view of the vital problems affecting Islam should be focussed and made known to the Peace Conference. As regards the religious aspect of the question, the world of Islam is agreed that the holy places and sacred shrines and mosques should remain in Moslem possession as before the war. This would be quite in accord with the reiterated avowal of the Entente Powers when they sought the help and co-operation of Moslem nations that their war aims were entirely free from territorial ambition and religious aspirations.

The political destiny of the Moslem regions now under the occupation of the Allied troops raises very complex and vast questions. But fortunately the broad principles of an equitable world-settlement embodied in the "14 Points" of President Wilson's Peace Programme, by which the Allied and Associated Powers are bound, are sufficiently comprehensive to safeguard Islamic interests if they are given effect to in a spirit of scrupulous honesty. Point XII lays down that:—

"The Turkish portions of the present Ottoman Empire should be assured a secure sovereignty, but the other nationalities which are now under Turkish rule should be assured an undoubtedly security of life and an absolutely unmolested opportunity of autonomous development, and the Dardanelles should be permanently opened as a free passage to the ships and commerce of all nations under international guarantees."

In the Mount Vernon speech Mr. Wilson declared that the second of the great aims of the Allies for which the Associated peoples of the world (including, of course, the Moslem races) were fighting was:

"The settlement of every question, whether of territory or sovereignty, of economic arrangement or political relationship, upon the basis of the free acceptance of that settlement by the people immediately concerned, and not upon the basis of the material interest or advantage of any other nation or people which may desire a different settlement for the sake of its own exterior influence or mastery."

In view of these explicit declarations which involve the plighted good faith of the Allies, the world of Islam is entitled to claim that the attempts springing from unworthy motives, which are now being made to evade by various devices, these fundamental principles should cease. These attempts have their roots in the poisoned soil of the "Secret Treaties" which have stirred up the avarice of the interested nations.

WHY NOT A PLABISCITE?

Mr. Wilson has emphatically declared, time and again, that these secret treaties which are obviously in conflict with the principles openly accepted by the Allies as the agreed basis of a world-settlement have ceased to be valid and must be set aside. Such being the case, the world of Islam must now strain every nerve to save itself from the pernicious effects of the Secret Treaties, obviously aimed at its enslavement, to satisfy the cupidity of certain non-Muslim nations. Unless the gerrymandering manipulations of the Greeks and others in regard to Moslem population statistics changes with a view to cut off slices of Moslem territory under and consequent territorial various pretexts, for open or disguised incorporation into their own kingdoms is stopped—the seeds of unceasing bloodshed in the struggle for the emancipation of Islam will be sown by the Peace Conference. It appears from the trend of the happenings in Paris that Mr. Wilson and the British Prime Min[illegible] Mr. being overborne by the heavy [illegible] weights of the selfish interests involved [illegible] the Secret Treaties, and are being pressed to give their assent to the distribution of the dissevered limbs of the Turkish Empire among the Euro[illegible]ean nations. Such cruel injustice to Islam, in flagrant violation of the two principles quoted above, can only be avoided by resorting to the unchallengeable criterion of plebiscite in all the Moslem regions now under Allied military occupation. The test of a plebiscite is to be applied to certain portions of German territory. Why should it be burked in the case of Moslem territory?

If the principle of a plebiscite is acted upon with scrupulous fairness in all Moslem regions, it will enable the populations concerned to signify their will in regard to the sovereignty or other form of Government acceptable to them. It will also show whether the scheme of a great federation of Arab races from Mesopotamia to North Africa propounded by the Amir Feisal is desired by the populations concerned, or whether the creation of "a sort of United States" of Islam grouped under a Khalifa suits the Islamic view, or whether there should be two co-ordinated federations representing the two main denominations of the faith.

In any case, the destiny of Moslem nations should not depend on individual views, but must be decided by the populations concerned by an organised expression of their will. This is only possible through the instrumentality of a free and uninfluenced plebiscite. I would suggest that the Moslem claim should include the following:—

(1) The holy places and sacred buildings of Islam should remain in Moslem possession and under Moslem sovereignty as before the War.

(2) Turkish Thrace and Constantinople, being part of the Homeland of the Turks,

SWADESHI MOVEMENT.

"A RELIGIOUS DUTY."

HOW INDIA CAN BECOME PROSPEROUS.

Under the auspices of the Swadeshi Sabha, a public meeting in connection with the Swadeshi movement, was held on Thursday night, at the Morarji Goculdas Hall, under the presidency of Mr. Gandhi. Messrs. K. P. Khadilkar, Devaji Damodar, Jamnadas Dwarkadas and Chimanlal Jivanlal spoke on the subject.

Mr. Khadilkar said the Swadeshi movement was not a new thing in India. It had begun since 1903, with the agitation against the Partition of Bengal. Then there were two parties: the one adopting Swadeshi and the other boycotting foreign articles. Mr. Tilak joined the movement at that time. Mahatma Gandhi had now taken up the question, again, and it was the duty of the public to support him.

HOW INDIA COULD BE PROSPEROUS.

In impressing upon the audience the necessity of adhering to the Swadeshi vow he said if 10,000 people took the Swadeshi vow, India would be more prosperous than now. By a simile he showed that if any individual wanted to stop the course of a river it would have been difficult for him to do that, but if ten thousand men threw a piece of stone each, there would be a great heap of stone to stop the course of the river. Similarly, if all the country would use only country-made articles a stop would be put to the drainage of their own resources which were at present being exploited.

Mr. Devaji Damodar said the movement they had started, was at a time when in England labour demanded more wages and less hours of work. This had helped the price of cloth waxing higher in war time. Then Government controlled Indian Cotton Mills by a Bill and imposed a standard price on clothes produced by Indian Mills. So the public should now control their mines and use Indian goods. He said there were 176,000 looms in India but only seven crores of people used swadeshi clothes. In the "Times of India" of May 9, some critic said that Mahatma Gandhi was simply increasing the trouble of the poor people by introducing the Swadeshi Vow. But he said that was not true. The poor people could get things at a cheaper rate if the movement were supported and more looms worked. He pitied that their raw cotton went to foreign countries, and when it came back they had to buy it at an exorbitant price, thus imposing a double loss to the country. He exhorted the audience to use Swadeshi goods and said there was no harm in it, but on the contrary there was apparently gain to individuals and the nation.

"BLACK PERIOD" IN INDIAN HISTORY.

Mr. Chimanlal Chinoy said there was a time when the whole world was imitating and admiring Indian industry and architecture. The East India Company, a trading body, came and established itself in India and through that body Indians made exchange of their ware for those of the West. But since the period which is marked in history as the Black Period—the period when Lord Clive and Lord Hardinge were in India—Indians unfortunately began to take to foreign goods and shun their own industry which had resulted in the present ruin of the country. He begged of his countrymen to awake, to adopt the Swadeshi Vow and the retrieve the old glory and prosperity of the country.

THE MEANING OF SWADESHI VOW.

Mr. Jamnadas Dwarkadas said the Swadeshi Vow did not consist in only clothes. By Swadeshi Vow he meant that they should be Indian in every respect,—thoughts, words and deeds. He said it was shameful that Indians should, only for fashion's sake, imitate everything Occidental. He said, in England anything that Britain could not produce, would not be used by the English. He explained that the very existence of Indians should be purely Indian, and then only they could really help the country. Mr. Gokhale had said that every year forty to fifty crores of rupees were going out to England on English goods. They could have prevented it, if they were Swadeshists. He earnestly exhorted them to adopt the Vow and thus to save the country from poverty.

Mahatma Gandhi said he had already dealt at length with the subject the other day, so there was nothing to be said by him anew. He simply wanted to know how many in the audience, were desirous of adopting the Vow, whereupon the major part of the audience raised their hands to show their willingness. Then he advised the adherents to go to the Sabha next day in Swadeshi clothes and sign the pledge.

SUCCESS OF "SHOODH SWADESHI STORE."

He told them a "Shoodh Swadeshi Store" was started, where pure Swadeshi goods could be had at cheapest rates. He said that the Store was under the management of such persons as the customers might not have any suspicion of being cheated. The Store was started only two days ago and at the time of the inauguration of business, it was expected that daily sales would not exceed two or three hundred rupees. But, to his great satisfaction, the sale of the first day was Rs. 1,870, the majority of the customers being ladies, Hindu and Parsi. Many Mahomedans also made purchases in the Store, for their "Id" festival.

Concluding, Mahatma Gandhi very emphatically said that just as the singing of God's praises in the morning, was deemed a religious duty to the Indians, in the same light they should consider the use of Swadeshi goods with a view to encouraging Swadeshi industry.

AHMEDABAD SPECIAL TRIBUNAL.

IMAMKHAN MURDER CASE.

DEFENCE AND PROSECUTION ARGUMENTS.

(Associated Press.)

AHMEDABAD, June 18.

The Special Tribunal reassembling this morning, the trial of (1) Gokul Binlal, (2) Pandit Brahmanand, (3) Purushottam Somchand, (4) Mahashanker Nursi, (5) Meghsingh Madhusingh, (6) Hanji Jhalum Sing, on the charge of waging war against the King and the murder of Police Constable Imamkhan, etc., was continued to-day, when arguments on both sides were heard.

Mr. Binning, Public Prosecutor, opening the address at first dealt with the question of law as to the applicability of Section 149 by which every accused guilty of any one of the offences committed by the mob would be constructively liable for all the actions of the mob. Mr. Binning emphasised the fact that the principal charge in the case was that of waging war against the King. The use of the term "war" did not necessarily mean the use of swords. Mr. Binning relied on Mayne's commentary.

In this connection coming to the question of facts, Mr. Binning urged that when the whole town of Ahmedabad was in a wild state of riots and committing offences such as arson, murder, theft, assault, etc., with the one common object of overawing the Government into releasing persons whom they might have thought proper to arrest, these acts came within the scope of Section 121A on the charge of waging war against the King. Particularly in the present case the charge of waging war against the King was very appropriately applicable, in view of the extraordinary danger caused by such actions to the safety of the public, to public buildings and other property and to the Government. It also happened in this case that certain force was available to quell the disturbance, but the Tribunal should take into consideration what would have happened if such force had not been available.

WHAT LEADERS DID IN RIOTS.

In this connection Mr. Binning stated he did not wish to be misunderstood by the gentlemen who were in the streets of Ahmedabad on the 10th and 11th April to help the police. They were themselves most upset by what had happened. He also did not certainly want to suggest that the leaders of public movements in the city were prominently engaged in inciting the mobs, whatever their views might have been. He was not concerned with their views. It was natural for their own sake as well as for the sake of the people they were anxious to stop the riots. He hoped, however, that the leaders of the Satyagraha movement would not again suggest a breaking of laws when they knew what had happened on April 10th and 11th. The proof of a pudding was in its eating and the fruit of their agitation was seen in what had happened.

Mr. Binning further said that as he had already suggested in his opening speech, it was his suggestion that the prominent leaders unconsciously threw lighted matches and when there was an explosion they could do nothing. As regards the other charges, the charge of arson was fairly proved by the evidence of the manager of the Ata Mill and there was no doubt that Constable Imamkhan was murdered. The principal charges or rather the principal events or facts constituting those charges were proved. He said also that anybody who was consciously in the riots and was taking an active part whether by talking about the Rowlatt Bill or by throwing stones or by inciting the mob by shouting "Maro, maro" (or beat), he was undoubtedly constructively liable under Section 149 for all the acts done by the mob and which a mob could be reasonably expected to do as was evident by the happenings of the 11th April. As regards the charges of arson and murder, etc., they knew that the mob was endeavouring to get hold of the Europeans at the Ata Mill and they also knew of the damage done to the mill and when anyone took part in a mob of this kind he must be held to be aware that murder was quite one of the possibilities of such an act. As regards the fifth and sixth accused, their case was different from that of the four other accused. The fifth and sixth accused were actually charged with an act which undoubtedly resulted in the constable's death. On the other hand in the case of the other four accused, if any of the accused had been inciting the mob and shouting anything like "Gandhi Maharaj Ki Jai" or "Maro, maro" or "nothing will be attained with (without ?) blood is shed", etc., he urged that from the standpoint of the prosecution such persons were even more guilty than the persons of an inferior grade of life and of less intelligence. For the 5th and 6th accused did not appear to be men of great intelligence. Those who inflamed the passions on the spot which led to the acts, should be held more guilty than those who actually did acts in a sudden fit of infuriation.

EVIDENCE AS TO THE NUMBER OF WOUNDED.

Then coming to the persistent way in which the defence had been continuously asking the prosecution witnesses as to the number of the wounded, Mr. Binning submitted that there was no evidence on that point as to how many were wounded and how, when and where except the evidence of the Civil Assistant Surgeon, Dr. Solomon, and if the defence wanted to lay special stress on that point, they could have easily brought such evidence. And Mr. Binning reminded that the subject-matter before the Tribunal for decision was not as to the rights and wrongs of the action of the police in firing. It absolutely mattered little as to whether the number of the wounded was five, fifty or five hundred. The evidence clearly went to show that the mob had already begun to throw stones and shout "Maro, maro" before any firing was suggested. In view of the state of affairs at the Ata Mill nobody could contend that the order to fire was wrongly given. And it was also no excuse to say that because the police had fired and some persons had been wounded, so somebody had a right to fly into temper and commit acts of murder or do any such thing. So far no accused had pleaded any such motive of provocation. Lastly, excepting accused four, the rest of the accused said that either they were not at all at the scene of occurrence or that they went there after the Constable Imamkhan was dead.

Then coming to the efforts of the defence to establish that there was no complicity or connection between the riots of April 10th and 11th and that the state of continuous and wild rioting began in Ahmedabad on the 11th April only and not from the evening of the 10th April by asking such questions as to whether there were any disturbances on the night of 10th April. Mr. Binning said that it was the prosecution's contention that the mobs in the streets of Ahmedabad from 10th April were in a state of wild rioting continuously. In this connection Mr. Binning stated he understood that there was a meeting on the evening of the 10th April when many prominent gentlemen including his learned friend, Mr. V. J. Patel, made speeches and Mr. Binning said he gave them the credit of telling the rioters in their speeches not to commit disturbances. But they had been dropping lighted matches for a long time and when the fire broke out they could do nothing in the least towards quelling it.

Their gratitude, continued Mr. Binning, was due to the leaders including Mr. V. J. Patel and Mr. M. V. Kothari who were in the Court, who were out in the streets during the riots to help the police and pacify the people. Mr. M. V. Kothari, who was in the Court and who was near the Victor Cinema on the 10th April, it was said, was hit with stones thrown by the mob.

Returning to the question of the continuity of the rioting from the 10th, Mr. Binning said that early in the morning of the 11th, people were asked to close their shops and a rumour was spread about Sister Anusuya's arrest. Then as to what happened during the 11th April was well-known. Mr. Binning then turning to the evidences against each accused, took up the case of the 5th and 6th accused and pointed out that the evidence was conclusive and fully corroborated as to their guilt in contributing to the death of the deceased Imamkhan even without their confessions which both the accused alleged that the magistrate recorded at the dictation of the police officers which was utterly ridiculous by itself.

ACCUSED ONE AND FOUR.

Turning to the evidence against accused one and four, Mr. Binning pointed out that while accused one was seen by Mr. Boyd, District Superintendent of Police, taking a leading part, he denied having been there at all, while accused four said he was merely a spectator. It was preposterous to suggest that the police should have any particular grudge against these particular individuals. There were overwhelming evidence against both the accused.

Then turning to accused two and three Mr. Binning said that accused two has in no way enlightened the Tribunal as to how is it he happened to be present at the scene of occurrence at the phychological moment when the District Magistrate and the District Superintendent of Police arrived and not before and where he was before he came to the spot. If as stated for the defence he had been a very peaceful individual who pacified the mob and who helped in removing the deceased constable to the hospital, then will any policeman deliberately involve accused two in the case?

As to accused three also the defence had not let in evidence to show that he went to the scene of occurrence for the purpose of attending to the wounded. Both the accused might belong to the Satyagraha movement, but to suggest that on that account they were implicated in the case was to give themselves too much importance. The next point to be considered was that both accused, two and three, were seen in the forefront of the mob and to do it they must have waded through the riotous mob of two to four thousand peoples. As Satyagrahis or connected with the movement what they would have done, being abhorrers of violence and especially firing had been resorted to, was that they would have kept away from it. Especially accused two and three did not look like people who could do much towards controlling a riotous mob.

EVIDENCE OF INEXPERIENCED SUB-INSPECTOR.

Mr. Binning turning to the prosecution evidences admitted that the evidence of Sub-Inspector Kazi who first gave the order to fire at the mill and who later on hid himself in a godown till he saw the District Superintendent of Police and the District Magistrate and that of Mr. Pathan were not very satisfactory. Sub-Inspector Kazi was an inexperienced junior officer and his evidence was not as bad as that of Mr. Pathan, but considering that the two police officers were faced by a riotous mob of some thousands while they had only handful, nobody could say they could have done otherwise or anybody else in their position would have proved better. Mr. Binning, after further dealing with the evidences, stated he wanted to be fair as the duty of every public prosecutor was and concluded submitting that evidences against all accused were conclusive.

Mr. Vallabhbhai J. Patel, Bar.-at-Law, next addressing the Court on behalf of accused two and three, first put forward a few general observations on the question as to whether a charge under Section 121-A for waging war against the King could stand on the facts placed before the Court. And coming to the question of facts the learned counsel submitted that the present subject-matter before the case gave ample scope for exaggeration, the events being capable of different interpretations, as far as wit and invention could permit. Here was a case in which a large number of mill-hands lived in the locality where the riots occurred. The scene of occurrence was a mill area and the fact that many mill-hands were already on strike should be taken into consideration. And naturally when the mill-hands heard of Mr. Gandhi's arrest, who was much loved by them and who for their sake had taken on hunger strike, they struck work and gathered together in large numbers near the Ata Mill.

Mr. Patel submitted he was not there to defend either the views or the activities of those who were said by the prosecution to have thrown lighted matches and were responsible for the occurrences of the 10th and 11th April because they could take care of themselves. It was either for them or for the Tribunal to determine as to who lighted the matches and were responsible for the occurrences and as to whether it was the leaders or others. The same was the case with the question as to whether Mr. Gandhi was arrested or was merely prevented from going to the Punjab. These were questions with which they had nothing to do. The question for their consideration was as to whether what happened constituted sufficient evidence for coming to the conclusion that the accused had committed an offence under Section 121. There were certain facts in the case which showed how things had been exaggerated. These were that no officer had been attacked because he was an officer (of Government) at the time. No attempt had been made to browbeat any Government officer. The two Europeans who were rather roughly handled, were not Government officers and the mill-hands knew they were not Government officers. The question would be why they were roughly handled. Was it because they were Europeans or could there be some other reason? In considering the question they should remember that as soon as these two Europeans entered their chowky at Kalupur the crowd was politely told to disperse and they dispersed. That was the evidence of the Head Constable Chhaganlal.

The President: Did he say that the crowd dispersed?

EXAGGERATED STORIES.

Mr. Patel said the witness had stated that many of them were asked politely to go away. Then many went away. It was alleged for the prosecution that a large number of people had collected and they had sticks. Now if two to four thousand people who were armed with sticks, had roughly handled two Europeans for two and a half hours, more serious injuries would have been inflicted than what was alleged to have been inflicted. Mr. Steeple had stated that he had received twenty to thirty lathi blows, but according to medical evidence he had received two lathi blows only. The counsel further submitted that the witnesses whose depositions had been taken a month after the occurrence had been so much impressed with the incidents of the second day that in deposing to the incidents of the first day they had consciously or unconsciously exaggerated their stories. Again, except the constable who had been killed no one had received such injuries as to require medical treatment excepting the medical certificate in regard to Mr. Steeple.

Mr. Patel further submitted that the Tribunal should rely upon the first statement made by the Head Constable Chhaganlal who made it on the very day when his impressions of the occurrences of April 10th were quite fresh. In that statement Chhaganlal had stated on that day that everybody was expected to strike work and when some mill-hands saw others they forced them to join in the strike work by throwing stones at their mills. If this was taken as the basis of general disturbance much of the exaggeration could be understood. The prosecution has not referred to this part of the story and he did not see why it should not be believed. He urged that the statement of the engineer of the Ata Mill that the mill had ceased work three days before the occurrence was untrue. The counsel next submitted that the incidents of April 11 should be entirely separated from the incidents of 10th and that the prosecution had failed to show any connection between those two sets of incidents. Nor was there any evidence to show that the mob which created the disturbances of April 11th, furthermore, there was nothing to show that even during the disturbance of 10th April near the Ata Mill took any part in the disturbances of April 11th. Furthermore, there was nothing to show that even during the night of April 10th there was any agency at work to plaw the disturbances of April 11th. Again on April 10th the police were not required to fire at any place in the city except at Prem Gate which showed that the disturbances of that day were not so general. They were neither planned nor organised beforehand, but were spontaneous disturbances due to the resentment felt by the mill-hands at the arrest of Mr. Gandhi whom they loved so much. Their object was to go on a general strike as a mark of their warning.

His Honour Mr. Velinker enquired if it was the general practice in the country to observe mourning by going on strike.

Mr. Patel observed that in this case mourning took the form of a general hartal or strike and to an enquiry from his Honour Rao Bahadur Setalvad, Mr. Patel replied that if there had been no firing much excitement could have been avoided and that there was no saying that if instead of an inexperienced and junior police sub-inspector like Mr. Kazi had not been in charge and some other senior and experienced officer had been in charge, a different tale might have been told.

Analysing the evidences against accused two and three, Mr. Patel pointed out that the evidences on the face of them were untrue and self-contradictory and it was absolutely unnecessary to call in defence as no case has been made out at all against any of the accused two and three.

Referring to accused two Mr. Patel said that he was a Satyagrahi who was not afraid of suffering and he stated that if the Tribunal did really find accused two guilty, he pleaded for no mercy for him.

Mr. Popatlal M. Gora for accused one and four and Mr. M. N. Shaikh for accused five and six then addressed the Tribunal. Judgment in this case was reserved for Monday next.

VIRAMGAM RIOT CASE.

HOW RAILWAY STATION WAS STORMED.

(Associated Press.)

AHMEDABAD, June 19.

Before the Special Tribunal to-day presided over by Mr. C. V. Vernon, B.A., I.C.S., together with Rao Bahadur Chunilal H. Setalwad and Mr. S. G. Velinkar, the case wherein 62 accused persons stand charged in connection with the Viramgam riots was taken up for hearing. The charges against them include those of waging war against the King, murder, rioting, arson, receiving stolen property, etc.

Mr. D. B. Binning, Barrister-at-Law, with Rao Bahadur Manibhai Bhagubhai Jhavery, Public Prosecutor, Ahmedabad, appeared for the Crown. Mr. Manilal V. Kothari, pleader represented eight of the accused persons and Mr. Dolatram U. Shah appeared for 12 accused and the remaining 40 were represented by Mr. Tuljaram J. Bhatt retained for that purpose by Government.

At the outset Mr. Dolatram U. Shah requested the Tribunal to order separate trials of the different accused according to the particular, charges against them. He further submitted that it would be only necessary to divide the present batch into different groups.

Mr. Binning urging a joint trial of all the accused stated that the town of Viramgam was the scene of wild riots on the 12th April from 10-30 a.m. in the morning to 7-30 p.m. in the evening when many horrible crimes were committed. Great damage was done to Railway property, public buildings were burnt and records destroyed and to crown all Aval Karkun Madhavlal Hargovindas was burnt alive by kerosine oil being poured on him. Mr. Binning compared the riotous crowds that took part in the riots of 12th April to a brigade which proceeded making attacks from the railway station to the Cutcherry, while the main body was engaged in committing the principal crimes, small bodies of rioters detached themselves from the main body and began to loot fruit stalls and loot private property. The principal charge was the charge of waging war against the King and any one of the accused who was proved to have taken active part in the riots at one place or other should be held liable for the acts of the rioters at other places also The common object of the rioters was as in other crowds to overawe the Government into releasing Mr. Gandhi.

Mr. Manilal V. Kothari requested the Tribunal to divide the present batch of 62 accused into two groups at least, namely, of those who took part in the rioting at the Railway station and of those who took part in the rioting in the town as a perusal of the charge-shet eshowed that those who took part in the riots in the town did not take part in the riots near the Railway station excepting for about seven or eight persons who were alleged to have taken part in the riots at both the places.

TRIBUNAL'S RULING.

The Tribunal ruled that the joint trial of the 62 accused persons before the Tribunal as having taken part in the occurrences of 12th April at Viramgam should proceed as no cause was at present shown for separate trials of the persons concerned and reserved the right of ordering separate trials if necessary.

Mr. Binning then opening the case observed that everybody was aware that Viramgam was a town and a Railway Junction some fourty miles further off Ahmedabad, having two mills and seven ginning factories. The agitation against the Rowlatt legislation was carried on in Viramgam also and on 6th April hartal or a general suspension of all business was observed and on 9th April a meeting was held to protest against the Rowlatt Act and on 11th April, the second day of riots in Ahmedabad, a public meeting of the people of Viramgam was held when Mr. Gandhi's message after his arrest was read. The news of Mr. Gandhi's massage reached Viramgam on the night of 10th April and on 11th Apirl there was a hartal.

On the morning of 11th April a crowd of about 500 people collected at the Railway station with cries of Gandhi Maharaj Ki Jai but was persuaded to peacefully disperse. On the night of 11th April there was a public meeting held to protest against the Rowlatt Act and Mr. Gandhi's message was read.

On 12th April at 10-30 a.m., the arrival time, of the Gujarat Mail a large crowd gathered at the station with shouts of Gandhi Maharaj Ki Jai. Accused one Malikh Khutu, Mussalman, was the leader of the mob. The Stationmaster, being also Mahomedan, by gentle persuasions made the crowd depart from the Railway Station. But within a very short time, by 12 noon, the crowd again returned larger than the last time and consisted of at least 1,000 people and was increasing hourly. The Railway Police Sub-Inspector had wired by 11 a.m. to the Railway D.S.P. for help. The riots at Viramgam thus began about 12 noon on 12th April at the Railway Station. Mr. M. C. Ilveride, Railway Traffic Inspector and the only European then in Viramgam, was at that time staying in the rest room on the upper storey of the Railway station. The rioters some of them forced their way into the rest room by a staircase into the front leading from the platform and demanded of Mr. M. C. Ilveride that he should cheer Mr. Gandhi thrice by saying Gandhi Maharaj Ki Jai and that then he would not be molested. Mr. M C. Ilveride replied saying he did not know Mr. Gandhi nor as to what they had to do with Mr. Gandhi and refused to do as asked by the mob. By this time some of the rioters had forced their way in by a back staircase and roughly handled Mr. M. C. Ilveride who might have easily been killed. The medical evidence characterised the wounds as serious and deposed to three incised wounds on the head of 2½in. to 1½in. and three more incised wounds were inflicted on the shoulder, arm, etc.

MR. ILVERSIDE'S ESCAPE.

Subsequently, Mr. M. C. Ilverside escaped by a goods wagon attached to a light engine to Kharagoda. From 12 noon the mob had been throwing stones on the station building. There was a kerosine oil stores belonging to the Railway near the station, which was seized by the mob and with which it set fire first to the Telegraph Office. The fire spread on and the whole station buildings were burnt and now of the whole station only the main walls are left.

The Stationmaster and the Sub-Inspector subsequently went along the railway line to the next station and wired from there for assistance.

At this stage accused one Malikh Khutu was alleged to have said to the rioters "now let us go to the town post office. Accused No. 1 had the telegraph wires outside the station cut with the help of others. On the way to the town post office from the railway station the mob proceeded by the Subordinate Judge's Court who had closed his court hearing of the riots. The mob next went to the Bharwadi Gate and set it on fire. Then they went to the Post and Telegraph Office and all the records, furniture and telegraph machines were destroyed including stamps, etc., and the private property of the postmaster. The post and telegraph buildings also were burnt and incidentally three adjoining buildings belonging to private citizens. The mob next went to the Mamlatdar's Cutcherry which was in a compound. This was at about 1-30 p.m., while the main body of the rioters was in the front of the Cutcherry. Then and then the body of the rioters went to the Golwadi Police Chowky where then broken open two of the doors, removed two swards and set the chowky on fire. Then they proceeded to the Police Sub-Inspector's house, but he was not there. At the Mamlatdar's Cutcherry the mob threw stones and brick bats and seeing the place guarded by a party of armed police they brought kerosine oil from the Municipal Stores and set fire to the entrance gate of the Sub-Inspector's office which was alongside the cutcherry. Avalkarkun Madhavlal Hargovindas who was in the cutcherry ordered the police to fire on the mob and then getting frightened escaped from the back part of the cutcherry. Then the rioters set fire to the police lines in the cutcherry and also Head Constable Keshavlal's quarters. Then three other houses were set on fire. The armed police kept on firing, and the news spread among the rioters that Aval Karkun had ordered firing and a cry arose "Let us go and kill him." They first went to his house. He was not there. They burnt the furniture and other property in his house and looted it also. They then found that the Aval Karkun was not in his house and hearing that he was hiding in Bhavlal Karkun's house, the mob went there and dragged him out of the house and brought him in front of Ambaji's temple, poured kerosine oil over him and set fire to him. It was impossible to describe the horribleness of their act, for while the Aval Karkun was being burnt alive, the mob cheered those that did the foul crime, As if that was not enough, they put the records of the telegraph office on the top of the unfortunate man, poured kerosine oil over them and burnt him. This murder took place at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. In the meantime some of the new established themstlves in an upper floor of the house of a man called Dhanji Mahiraj. They were armed with some sort of guns and they fired at the police. As the evening came on the Head Constable got frightened and was forced to release 25 under-trial prisoners who were in the lock-up and they escaped. The rioters then had a free access to the cutcherry. They stole from it cash and notes of the value of Rs. 6.31,000, and more. But stationery, court fee stamps, etc., were not touched. The mob was subsequently dispersed by an armed corps. And two of the rioters were arrested in the Cutcherry. Besides the money bag containing Rs. 17,841, etc., and two swords were carried from the cutcherry. The total casualty from gun firing was six persons dead and 18 wounded.

HAPPENINGS AT RAILWAY STATION.

At 3 p.m., in the afternoon the other band of rioters detached themselves from the main body and went to the locomotive shed near the railway station and stole a number of tools of various kinds. They then proceeded along the line and damaged the signal board removed two rails of 35 feet, length and set on fire two sleepers. They next broke open sealed wagons on the sidings and looted their contents.

Worst of all they set fire several wagons full of grass a most foolish performance when the scarcity of fodder was taken into consideration. The damages done to the Post Office, Police lines, etc, amounts to Rs. 10,000. Damaged to private and municipal property amounted to Rs. 1,20,000. The damage done to railway property was about 3 lakhs.

Then coming to the part played by the several accused individually Mr. Binning made the following general statement that nearly 29 accused persons 1, 3, 5, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 31, 32, 33, 34, 37, 40, 47, 48, 49, 51, 53, 56, 59 were participating in the riots near the cutcherry and nearly 12 accused persons took active part in the murder of the Aval Karkun and that accused 16 to 30 with two or three exceptions were merely charged with receiving stolen property which accused 44, 45, 46, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, were charged with offences of looting, receiving stolen property, etc.,

To an enquiry by the Tribunal Mr. Binning stated that the charge of waging war against the King will not apply to those accused persons who were guilty only of the offence of receiving stolen properties. They were included in this group to facilitate the proving of the theft, etc. But there were accused persons who were receiving of stolen property and in addition participators in the riots and their case stood differently.

FIRST WITNESS.

Witness Sakatlal Bagatlal, Police Sub-Inspector, Viramgam Railway Station deposed to hartal being observed on 11th April on account of Mr. Gandhi's arrest and also to the crowds on the morning of 11th and 12th April, which were persuaded to peacefully disperse. Speaking of 12th April, witness said the first crowd came at about 10 a.m., and was persuaded to go back only to come in larger numbers. Some rioters got near the rest room on the upper floor and demanded of Mr. M. C. Ilveride, Traffic Inspector that he should cheer Mr. Gandhi by shouting Gandhi Maharaj Ki Jai which Mr. M. C. Ilveride refused to do. Witness with great difficulty persuaded the mob to leave alone Mr. M. C. Ilveride, when another group of rioters got in by the back staircase and beat Mr M. C. Ilveride who was inside with lathis and it was with great difficulty that later on witness was able to get Mr. M. C. Ilveride from the rest room into the Ry. carriage in the disguise of a porter. Witness Ilveride from the rest room into the railway et him to go down from the rest room."

Traffic Inspector B. B. & C. I. Railway Mr. M. C. Ilveride was next being examined when the court rose for the day.

REGULAR AERIAL MAIL SERVICE.

BETWEEN CAIRD AND KARACHI.

PROJECT UNDER CONSIDERATION.

(Associated Press.)

ALLAHABAD, June 19.

The "Pioneer" understands a definite project for the establishment of a regular aerial mail service between Cairo and Karachi via Bagdal is under consideration. This service would ultimately form a link in the Imperial chain, but by itself, it would prove of great advantage to India. Letters for England could be despatched from this country by aeroplane as far as Cairo and thence sent to their destination by ordinary mail. The time occupied from the time of posting to the delivery of the letter would be about ten days, which is less than is now taken by a deferred telegram to reach England.

LATE SIR W. IRONSIDE.

BENGAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE'S APPRECIATION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS SPECIAL SERVICE.)

CALCUTTA, June 19.

The following is an extract from the proceedings of the meeting of the committee of Bengal Chamber of Commerce, held on the 12th instant:—

The President said: "Before we commence business of the meeting I would like to say a few words regarding the death of our late President. During the time he has been in Calcutta, Sir William Ironside had taken a most active part in the life of our community. He first came to the front as Chairman of the Indian Mining Association, and last year was elected President of the Chamber, and also representative of the Chamber on the Imperial Legislative Council. I do not think that there is any man in Calcutta who has taken a more active part than he has, in the industrial development of Bengal during the past few years, and I would like especially to mention the energy with which he set to work over the last Indian War Loan, the success of which in Calcutta was very largely due to his efforts. There are many other points which one could mention about him such as his great personal charity, but I think what stood out more than anything else were his wonderful tenacity of purpose and straightforwardness of vision, and that when he had once made up his mind that his cause was a just one he upheld it absolutely fearlessly. He has been taken from us at a time when we could ill-spare him, and we all feel that in him we have lost not only a man who was destined to make even a bigger name for himself than he had already made, but also a great personal friend. I would like to propose to you the following resolution:—

That the members of the committee of Bengal Chamber of Commerce hereby place on record their appreciation of the work done by their late President Sir William Ironside on behalf of commerce and industry of Calcutta, and their sense of the great loss that the community has suffered by his death, and that they direct that an extract from the minutes of this meeting be forwarded to Lady Ironside together with an expression of their deepest sympathy."

The resolution was seconded by the Vice-President and was carried unanimously.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA BILL.

OUTSTANDING FEATURE OF PROPOSALS: VAGUENESS.

(Associated Press.)

RANGOON, June 18.

Commenting on the Reform Bill the "Rangoon Times" says:—The whole administration can be changed to anything if the then Government think fit, within certain very elastic limits. Hardly a single principle is defined. Everything is left to the future and to someone else. Hereby the joint committee will insist in some more precise form being adopted in order to secure that the entire development of India be not left to chance, or caprice. The outstanding feature of the proposals is their vagueness, even the carefully engineered clauses of demand for speedy action. We think the measure cannot possibly be passed into law in its present form.

ALL-INDIA PLAGUE RETURN.

(Associated Press.)

SIMLA, June 19.

Mortality from plague in India during the week ended 7th June was 584 seizures and 491 deaths. Of these 89 deaths were in the Bombay Presidency, 1 in Madras, 3 in Bengal, 2 in Bihar and Orissa, 64 in the United Provinces, 279 in the Punjab, 30 in Burma, and 21 in Mysore State.

APPELLATE SIDE.

MURDER OF A RETIRED MAMLATDAR.

"BRUTAL AND SORDID ACT."

BASWANEPPA CHENBAS APPA AND FOUR OTHERS, ACCUSED v. KING-EMPEROR.

Before Justices Shah and Hayward.

This was an appeal against the decision of Mr. E. Clements, Sessions Judge of Dharwar, he found all the accused viz., Baswaneppa Chenbasa Appa, 3 Irapa Adiweppa, 4 Maryan Mallariappa, a manmant Krishnaji and 2 Gurushid Appa Malappa, guilty of murdering one Gururao Mokashi of Dharwar and sentenced the accused Nos. 1, 3, 4 and 5 to death under Sec. 302 of the Indian Penal Code. The accused No. 2 Gurushid Appa was sentenced to transporation for life under Sec. 302 and 109.

The case for the prosecution was that on the 10th of December, 1918 the deceased Gururao Mokhashi, a retired mamlatdar, living alone in a thickly inhabited part of Dharwar town in a two storied building, a man possessed of considerable property, a great deal of which as kept in the form of plate, jewellery and money in an iron safe in the middle room of his house, opposite to the front door, was strangled by thieves who took the key of the safe from his sacred thread and removed everything of value that was in the safe. That the five accused went to his house that night and that the accused No. 5 went away to Dandeli after concealing the other accused in a room on the ground floor, that accused No. 2 whose name was on the bad-mash register went home in order that the police might not discover his absence, leaving the actual offence to be committed by accused Nos. 1, 3 and 4. The latter were therefore charged with the substantive offences and accused Nos. 2 and 5 with abetment by conspiracy and aid. As some of the property was handed over to accused No. 5's wife immediately after the offence, accused No. 5 is also charged with dishonesty receiving stolen property.

All the accused had confessed but the confessions were subsequently retracted.

Their Lordship after hearing the Advocate-General and the pleaders of the accused confirmed the conviction of the accused observing that it was a cold blooded an improvoked murder committed with sordid motives. The sentence of death of the accused Nos. 1, 3 and 4 was confirmed. With regard to accused No. 2 in view of the fact that no stolen property was found from him and being absent at the time of the actual murder, his sentence was reduced to 5 years. With regard to accused No. 5 their Lordships observed that in view of the fact that although he was the principle abettor he was not present at the time of the actual murder and there were grounds for believing that he had persuaded others from committing this brutal act, his sentence should be reduced to transportation for life.

NEW STORM-CENTRE OF THE WORLD.

PROBLEMS OF MIDDLE ASIA.

Ever since the Germans formed the ambition to establish an Oriental Empire, Middle Asia has been the breeding-ground of international jealousy and intrigue, says Mr. St. Nihal Singh in the "Sunday Pictorial."

And though to-day Germany's dream of dominating the East has been shattered, the dread possibilities of this region as the future storm-centre of the world still continue to exist.

The end of the War leaves Middle Asia rent with divergent claims. The nationalities that were comprised in the Turkish Empire are crying out for the application to them of the doctrines of Self-Determination.

Armenians are agitating for a free Armenia, Syrians demand independence. The Greeks of the Black Sea hinterland want a republic.

The Arabs have driven the Turks out of Arabia, Arab clans of Mesopotamia, who for centuries have carried on a more or less open feud with the Turks, remain unreconciled to the Ottoman rule. The Jews throughout the world are claiming Palestine as a national home. Persia is pleading for justice and security, and for the return of purely Persian territory incorporated into other empires.

A DIFFICULT TASK.

Even if no extraneous issue were involved it would be no easy matter to reconcile the divergent claims staked out in Middle Asia. To adjust differences between Syria and Palestine is in itself a difficult task. To deliminate the boundaries of Arabia, and yet to satisfy the aspirations of the projected States of Syria and Palestine, requires statesmanship of the highest order. Armenians press for a port on the Black Sea, which the Greeks of the Black Sea coast declare belongs to them.

A great many vexations political and religious issues complicate the situation.

Muslims claim that their sacred places must be under the protection of an independent Sovereign, whose authority over them must be supreme and free from non-Muslim interference.

There are 70,000,000 Muslims in India alone, and 30,000,000 more in other parts of the Empire. France, too, has a considerable number of Muslims in her colonies. They are all an emotional people, whose passions flare up suddenly, especially where they think that their religious interests are in danger.

Considerations of expediency and justice alike demand that the wishes of the Muslims within and without the Alliance should be given sympathetic consideration.

The difficulties do not end there. Britain, France, Italy and Greece have their own ideas in regard to the settlement of various parts of Middle Asia. And to put it mildly, their views and interests do not coincide.

HOW INDIA IS AFFECTED.

Then there is the question of mandatories. Who is going to foot the bill for putting the new States on their legs, and be responsible for their good behaviour?

But if the world is to enjoy peace and security and Middle Asia is not to become the centre of the next storm, it is imperative that these difficulties be faced.

Those who are inclined to grudge money to assist the small nations to become established should remember the burden of taxation that they will have to shoulder in order to keep up immense armaments to provide against contingencies, if this region is left a prey to internal disorder and external aggression.

Think of what it will mean to India and to the British Empire if seeds of discontent are left to grow in Middle Asia, and designing nations are permitted to stimulate that growth!

But if Middle Asia were settled justly, Persian integrity were fully secured, and the national aspirations of the Mid-Asian nationalities were satisfied, without giving umbrage to Muslims, India's north-west frontiers would be protected by a series of sentinels, who, in maintaining peace and order within their own borders would automatically protect India against aggression.

In my opinion, if the settlement in Middle Asia is to be permanent and satisfactory, it must follow two cardinal principles:

First, it must satisfy all legitimate national aspirations, and assure the former subject-nationalities of Turkey full opportunity of ordered development.

Second, the settlement must, as far as possible, avoid injuring the hypersensitive susceptibilities of Muslims in all parts of the world.

Inasmuch as educated Muslims in India, Egypt and elsewhere are firm believers in the right of Self-Determination, it should not be difficult to arrive at a modus vivendi that will gratify the aspirations of the various communities of Middle Asia, without wounding Muslim susceptibilities.

But the task requires to be handled with tact sympathy and imagination.

EUROPE'S FISCAL DEBT.

"The Statist" writes:—There is a great deal of talk and a good deal written upon the question of the investment by the United States of North America of large sums of capital in Europe. It is, however, an accomplished fact. The United States has already invested very large sums in Europe, and it is quite certain that, except by taking back her own securities formerly placed here, there are no ready means by which she could call the money in. It is estimated that Europe is already indebted to the United States to such an extent as to involve an annual charge of, roughly, £100,000,000, payable from the eastern to the western side of the Atlantic, or precisely the contrary of the case which preceded the outbreak of the recent War. In pre-War days the indebtedness of the U. S. A. to Europe was usually estimated to involve an annual payment from the United States of between £200,000,000 and £250,000,000 each year. In the early days of the War, when the exchanges of the Allied countries became dangerously adverse, arrangements were made whereby holders of American securities in this country and in different parts of Europe were required by their various Governments to hand them over for sale to the United States. In this way the United States first acquired securities valued at £500,000,000, and subsequently acquired a further batch of securities valued at a similar amount. Subsequently, when the United States Government itself joined the Entente Alliance, she lent to her European Allies a sum estimated at between £1,600,000,000 and £1,700,000,000. As a result it is estimated that Europe already owes the United States something between £2,100,000,000 and £2,200,000,000. As already said, it would not be easy for the United States to withdraw this capital even if it desired to do so. As far as we are able to ascertain, the total exports from Europe to the United States at the present time are very far from meeting the charge on this debt, and there can be little doubt that our exports, taken as a whole, in 1918 were also inadequate. Of course, there are balances over from issues previously made by Europe to the United States, the interest from which should be more than sufficient to meet the charges of the debts incurred by Europe to the United States during the progress of the late War.

If we continue to be unable through our exports to meet the charges on the debt incurred in the United States, as it is perfectly evident that Europe can neither feed herself at the present time nor provide the raw materials needed for her manufactures, it seems only too probable that this indebtedness will be very materially increased. Consequently, the investment of capital by the United States in Europe is not only an accomplished fact, but seems likely to continue as a permanent factor for a period which it is not at present possible to define. In the circumstances there seems no reason that there should be any undue alarm that the people of the United States will seek bizarre methods of employing their surplus resources in flooding the markets of Europe with investments or with commodities. The exigencies of the case will in all probability demand the employment in Europe of quite as much capital from the United States as that country will find it convenient to spare. People who give little attention to economic matters do not always realise the methods by which capital moves from country to country, and the reasons for such movements.

Europe invested such vast amounts of capital in the past in the opening up of the newer countries because they offered much larger return on its employment than could be obtained in Europe itself. If the European continent is not to revert to barbarism, it must be fed, and it must obtain the raw materials essential for its manufactures. It is highly improbable, however, that the capitalists of the United States, having exhausted all the profitable fields for the employment of capital at home and in various countries of the world, will have such an abundant surplus remaining, that they will be forced to employ it in Europe rather than see it lie idle in the vaults of the banks and the trust companies.

On the contrary, the United States, like ourselves, has just come through a great war, and perhaps owing to the fact that she came so late into it she has suffered less than any other belligerent, she will find more profitable employment at home for any surplus she may have than by employing it in Europe. It has to be remembered that she cannot rely, as formerly, upon Europe for improving her transportation facilities, which demand large sums for their improvement every year. Although the whole of the United States is occupied, in a sense it is very far from being economically developed. Hundreds of millions could be spent with profit in building roads throughout the length and breadth of the United States of North America.

ROLLS-ROYCE

The "MOTOR TRADER" Jan 1st, 1919 states:—

"As the ROLLS-ROYCE car before the war was a synonym for quality of the highest grade, and a challenge to the World, so it is not remote to urge that the post-war vehicles of the Company will continue both the lead and the progressive enterprise associated with the company of ROLLS-ROYCE Ltd."

The "GLOBE" Dec 14th, 1918 states:—

"The whole success of commercial flying depends on the trustworthiness of the engine. With a firm like ROLLS-ROYCE concentrating its energies, genius and experience on the problem, the success of commercial flying is absolutely assured."

AUCTION OF WIVES.

10,000 MARRIAGES IN 4 MONTHS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

KATHIAWAD, June 18.

During the last four months the Lenwa Kunbis of Kathiawad have been making a pratice of giving their daughters in marriage to the highest bidders, whatever the inequalities in their ages might be. Thus a girl of below twelve years of age is perhaps married to an old aged person of about 60 years. It is calculated that about ten thousand such marriages were celebrated and the Kunbis have been able to secure nearly 10 lakhs of rupees during the last four months. Out of the proceeds thus made they buy corn, agricultural implements and pay "Vighoti" to their rulers. The matter does not end here. Low caste girls, passed off as below Kunbis, are offered and given in marriage. It is gratifying to note that the Hadada durbar, the Barwada durbar and the Vandadia durbar, Muluwala have issued notifications prohibiting such practices. It is hoped that the other states of Kathiawad will follow suit.

NEW BOMBAY MUNICIPAL LOAN.

40 LAKHS TO BE RAISED THIS YEAR.

The following letter from the Commissioner, dated the 13th instant will be considered at the next meeting of the Bombay Corporation:—

"I have the honour to propose that the approval of the Corporation be obtained to my approaching Government for sanction to a loan of Rs. 40 lakhs to be raised between August and December of this year, on account of the works enumerated in the accompanying statement. It will be seen that Rs. 30 lakhs are provided for general works and Rs. 10 lakhs for water works.

It is desirable to obtain the sanction of the Imperial Government through the Government of Bombay at a very early date, so that the Municipality may be in a position to approach the market at the most favourable time.

Based on the Budget Estimates for 1919-20 the margin of borrowing powers for general purposes (excluding Water Works and Fire Brigade) stands as under:—

| | | Rs. |
|---|---|---|
| Income as in the Budget for 1919-20 | | 1,71,15,000 |
| Deduct— | | |
| Fire Tax ..... | Rs. 2,80,900 | |
| Water Tax ..... | Rs. 29,45,000 | |
| | | 32,25,900 |
| | | 1,38,89,100 |
| Add— | | |
| Difference between General Tax at 9½ per cent. and maximum at 12 per cent. leviable under the Municipal Act ..... | | 18,75,289 |
| Total Income ... | | 1,57,64,389 |
| Expenditure as per budget for 1919-20 ..... | | 1,79,32,592 |
| Deduct— | | |
| (a) Fire Brigade— | | |
| Ordinary expenditure | Rs. 2,15,274 | |
| Debt ..... | Rs. 34,796 | |
| | Rs. 2,50,070 | |
| (b) Water Works— | | |
| Ordinary ... | Rs. 9,75,335 | |
| Debt. ..... | Rs. 17,87,281 | |
| | Rs. 27,62,616 | |
| | | 30,12,686 |
| Net expenditure (except Fire Brigade and Water Works) ..... | | 1,49,19,906 |
| Balance of taxation against which loans can be raised for purposes other than Fire Brigade and Water Works ..... | | 8,44,483 |

Against this balance of Rs. 8,44,483 loans could be raised to the extent of Rs. 1,21,73,500 for general purposes, excluding Water Works and Fire Brigade. The proposed loan is therefore well within our borrowing powers. As regards the Rs. 10 lakhs for Water Works, the interest and other charges will be specifically provided for in the taxation raised for water works purposes.

I propose to make a separate reference to the Corporation at a later date regarding the terms to be offered in placing the loan on the market. In present circumstances, the Corporation may decide either to float a short-dated loan on the market or to come to an arrangement similar to that sanctioned in raising the loan of Rs. 30 lakhs in 1918, in preference to placing a long-dated loan on the market at a high rate of interest or else at a heavy discount.

As regards the sinking fund provision to be made on the proposed loan of Rs. 40 lakhs, this can be dealt with at the time when the terms of the loan have been decided upon. When raising our loan of Rs. 30 lakhs from the Bank last year the Government of India agreed that no sinking fund need be provided at the time, and if any similar arrangement is made as regards this loan of Rs. 40 lakhs, I shall propose to Government that no immediate sinking fund provision need be made.

Within the next five years, the following loans fall due for repayment:—

(1) Rs. 20 lakhs Plague Loan on 1st May 1920.

(2) Rs. 4½ lakhs loan for Fire Brigade Stations and Quarters on 1st January 1923.

(3) Rs. 42 lakhs loan for repayment of Government Consolidated Loan on 1st July 1923.

From 1st May 1920 we shall be relieved of annual payments of Rs. 1,50,482 on account of the interest and sinking fund on loan No. (1), and in 1923, from 1st July we shall be relieved of Rs. 2,75,248 on account of the interest and sinking fund on Nos. (2) and (3).

I request that this be considered as urgent business at the June Meeting of the Corporation.

THE KING'S WIFE

STORY OF MIRABAI

This is a play in verse based on Popular Indian Story

Three characters stand out in the play: Akbar, Mirabai, and King Kumbha. The setting is purely Indian and is very simple.

We do not hesitate to compare "The King's Wife" with the dramatic productions of our Poet-Laureate, Sir Rabindranath, in point of simplicity of setting and beauty of form.

We feel bound to say that this little volume is a very desirable addition to the long list of the author's previous works and will serve the noble purpose of interpreting the East to the West, for both the author and the work have the advantage of Oriental thought in Occidental form. Our sincere congratulations are also due to the publishers. The get-up of the volume is admirable and forms an agreeable surprise, presenting a remarkable contrast to many books it has been our misfortune to have to review. The aesthetic sense displayed by the publishers is in its own way as noteworthy as that exhibited by the author, and the publishers' attempt to make the volume accessible to all by offering it at the unusually cheap rate of Re. 1 only, is worthy of the sincerest form of flattery imitation.—"New India."

IF FOOD DISAGREES TAKE BISURATED MAGNESIA.
Nearly everybody suffers at times after eating. Many can rarely eat without suffering the most excruciating agony. Some people call this indigestion, some dyspepsia, others gastritis; but no matter what you call it, no matter how many remedies or how many doctors you may have tried—instant relief may usually be obtained by taking half a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia in a little hot water immediately after meals. This instantly neutralises the acid and stops food fermentation, the cause of nine-tenths of all stomach trouble, and thus enables the stomach to proceed with digestion in a painless, normal manner. Care should be taken to insist on getting the genuine Bisurated Magnesia which, owing to its marvellous properties, is now sold by chemists everywhere under a binding guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

STANDARD BAROMETER READING

The following information is published in order that vessels in the Bombay Harbour may by comparison with a standard instrument ascertain the errors of their barometer:—

The reading of the Standard Barometer in the Colaba Observatory corrected for index error and reduced to 80 deg. F. and to the level of the tide at 8.45 a.m., Standard Time on the 20th June, 1919, was 29.866 inches. For temperature corrections applicable to mercurial barometer of ships the reading of the ship's barometer has to be increased or decreased by .013 inch for every 5 degrees according as the temperature of the attached thermometer is respectively below or above 80 deg. F. In case of the aneroid the temperature correction is needed but for comparison at 80 deg. F. all aneroid readings should be increased by 138 inch. For correcting the ship's barometer either mercurial or aneroid for the height of the barometer cistern above the tide in the stream at 8.45 a.m. Standard Time, the ship's barometer readings should be increased by .010 inch for every 10 feet of the height to make it comparable with the observatory barometer reading given.

DAILY WEATHER REPORT.

Summary of observations recorded at 8 hours on Friday, the 20th June 1919, giving data for the preceding 24 hours.

The Punjab.—Skies are clear except at Ambala. Humidity is below normal and temperature is above the average in the east and north Punjab, the excess in the minimum ranging up to 11deg. at Rawalpindi.

The United Provinces.—Skies are clear except at Allahabad; the air is much drier than usual. Temperature has risen and is above normal in the area of clear skies.

Sind and Rajputana.—Skies are moderately clouded in lower Sind and south-west Rajputana and are clear elsewhere. Humidity is above normal at Bikaner and Jacobabad. Day temperature is in defect at Karachi; night temperature is lower than usual at Bikaner.

Gujarat, Kathiawar and Central India West.—Skies are moderately clouded. Humidity is below normal generally. Day temperature is above the average at Ahmedabad and BhavnagarPara; night temperature is in excess at Rajkot.

The Central Provinces.—Skies are moderately or heavily clouded. Temperature has risen and is normal at night, but is still in slight or moderate defect during the day.

The Konkan.—Nearly general rain has fallen in the south Konkan; Karwar has had 0.46in. and Mormugao 0.13in. Night temperature is slightly above the average in the north Konkan.

The Bombay Deccan and Hyderabad.—Belgaum reports 0.42in. of rain. Skies are moderately or heavily clouded. Humidity is below normal in the north Bombay Deccan. Day temperature has risen, but is still below the average in east Hyderabad and the south Bombay Deccan.

General Remarks.—Rainfall has disappeared from the central parts of the country, but has increased in Malabar, where the monsoon appears to be strengthening. It has been nearly general on the west coast as far north as Mormugao, and local in the south Bombay Deccan. Temperature remains high in the Punjab and the United Provinces. With the cessation of rainfall temperature is rising in the central parts of the country. Westerly winds have reappeared in the Gangetic Plains.

Rainfall may extend into the Madras Deccan and south Hyderabad.

India Telegraphic Summary for the 19th June 1919

Rainfall has decreased in the central parts of the country, but has increased somewhat in north-east India and the west coast of the Peninsula. It has been nearly general in Lower Burma, Assam, Bengal and Chota Nagpur and local in Bihar, the east of the United Provinces, Kashmir and on the west coast of the Peninsula. A few falls have also occurred in Upper Burma, Orissa, the North-west Frontier Province, the Central Provinces, the Bombay Deccan, Hyderabad, Mysore and Madras excluding Malabar.

Principal amounts not already shown in the Bombay Report are:—Mergui two inches; Kyaukpyu three; Akyab, Cherrapunji seven, Cox's Bazar two; Barisal one and a half; Calcutta one; Chabasa five; Hazaribagh three; Daltonganj one and a half; Jagdalpur one.

Highest temperatures recorded yesterday were one hundred and seventeen degrees at Jacobabad, one hundred and fourteen degrees at Dera Ismail Khan and one hundred and thirteen at Peshawar. These are all about five degrees above normal.

PROMOTIONS TO I. E. S.

"The "Leader" writes:—

Improvement of the Indian and provincial educational services had been under consideration by the Government of India before the formation of the Royal Commission on Public Services in India. But the question was shelved until the Commission had reported. It was not till the year before last that the report and minutes of evidence of that Commission were made available to the public. The Government of India issued a notification to the effect that the educational service would be the first service of which the reorganization was to take place. The local Governments were asked to send by November, 30, 1917, their recommendations which were to be based on the report of a mixed committee of officials and non-officials. It will further be in the recollection of our readers that in these provinces, the non-officials who served on that committee were, the Hon. Dr. Tej Bahadur Sapru, the Hon. Mirza Samiullah Beg, and Mr. T. C. Jones. We have no information as to what the report of this committee was, nor as regards the recommendations of the local Government—though the latter can amply be conjectured from subsequent events. To resume our narration: the next that we heard was on January 29 last, when a list of fourteen names was published, of persons who had been promoted to the Indian educational service. The next and last event was the publication a few days ago of a further list of persons.

Let us see now on what principle these selections have been made if there is any principle at all. The only two persons who have won favour at the hands of the powers that be are Rai Sahib Dr. Annoda Prasad Sircar and Mr. R. S. Weir. What are the special qualifications of these officers? The explanation seems to be that they had been officiating in the I. E. S. at the time. But the merest accident of an accident should surely not decide matters of such importance. Among professors, men of such distinguished ability and eminent position as Rai Bahadur Umesh Chandra Ghosh and Babu Abhay Charan Mukerji have off and on officiated in the I. E. S. Mahamahopadhyaya Dr. Ganganatha Jha is the principal of an important college and directs an important branch of education in these provinces, and has acquired a European reputation for deep and wide scholarship. All these three senior and distinguished officers of the collegiate sections have been left in the shade. Among inspectors there are men like Messrs. Kichlu Zutshi, Hardie and Rai Bahadur G. N. Chakravarti. They are all eminently successful officers and can hold their own against any members of the I. E. S. What are Mr. Weir's qualifications? How has he proved himself superior to the P. E. S. head masters and inspectors who have grown-grey in state service? Does it mean that in the Simla vocabulary, 'seniority' stands for 'supersession'? Among those senior members of the P. E. S. who have been superseded are men like Messrs. Gyanendra Nath Chakravarti, Umesh Chandra Ghosh, Kichlu, Zutchi, Ganganath Jha, A. C. Mukerji, Satis Chandra Deb, K. B. Mittra and S. C. Chakravarti. Does the appointment of Dr. Sircar mean that all the rest are considered to be less competent? While we are glad that one Indian has been promoted, we emphatically protest against the supersession of senior men of distinction in the service. In other provinces senior officers have been promoted—Messrs. M. Ghosh, Bhagwati Sahay, B. N. Das, Deb and Jadunath Sarkar and others. In this province, a junior officer has been put over the heads of persons who have been his own teachers. Nor can the Government argue that he has been actually officiating in one of the famous thirty-seven vacancies that have been promoted; we understand that Mr. Atma Ram of the Punjab was a P. E. S., inspector of schools, and was not officiating in the I. E. S. at the time of his appointment. What then can justify this invidious distinction?

Again, assuming that a third list of similar promotions is to be published, what exactly will be the position? If in July, Messrs, Ghosh, Chakravarti, Jha, Mukerji and Deb are promoted to the I. E. S., will they be shown as being junior to Dr. Sarkar? Have the Government of India acted on the principle that promotions should be given to persons who are officiating in an existing vacancy? If it is so then Messrs. Deb and Karwel should also have been promoted immediately. Then again, the case of this province is curious. In other provinces, when a vacancy in the superior service occurs, the seniormost man officiates, irrespective of the fact that he may not be doing the actual work of the man for whom he officiates. Here, however, the circumstances are different: thus a junior professor like Mr. Karwel officiates in the I. E. S., though he is only an officer of two years' standing, while officers of twenty years' standing continue to be in the P. E. S. Similarly Dr. Sircar, though he is junior to at least six P. E. S. professors, officiates in the I. E. S. The Government of India should have seen to it that the practices in the various provinces did not vary like this; for it is the merest accident that at this moment Dr. Sircar was officiating, though he is not a senior officer. There is another point to which we may refer and of which we must express our entire disapproval. Men like Messrs. Weir and Armstrong have been appointed and they will be said to be 'recruited in India.' Outsiders will naturally think that all those who have been recruited in India are Indians but that is not the fact.

The United Provinces names then are most disappointing and will cause considerable dissatisfaction. When justice is not done, a sense of wrong must dishearten those whose just claims have been neglected.

RANDOM THOUGHT ON CHAPMAN'S TRUSSES.

The whole secret of cure lies in this that the protruding Sac shall be pushed back and up-lifted to its proper position by gentle and soft pressure from without thus allowing the torn membrane to join and heal as nature quickly accomplishes the latter parts of the work when the means of achieving the first are provided! and when the ruptured membrane is made whole in this way, it is as strong and sound as ever. The selection of the right truss is therefore of supreme importance in such cases.
